Wage-Price Curbs Near In Mobilization

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP) — The government's decision to go ahead speedily with nation-wide price and wage controls brought applause from senators today and sent officials into a whirl of last-minute preparations.

In the absence of any official word on exact timing, the best guess seems to be that a general price freeze, probably rolling back present high levels somewhat, will come perhaps within a week—almost certainly not much longer.

This was just one development in a marked speed-up in defense mobilization.

President Truman laid down late yesterday a national manpower policy calling for voluntary measures now. But he cautioned that sweeping controls will be sought if necessary. The idea is to see that defense industries and other essential undertakings get the men they need.

Then, too, the Defense Department sent Congress a drastic new military manpower program. It also outlined an 87-billion-dollar program to buy the arms needed now and expand production facilities.

On the question of price-wage controls, defense mobilization director Charles E. Wilson laid it on the line in a Philadelphia speech last night:

"Voluntary methods will not work. . . . The power of the law must be invoked. . . . Whatever the causes for delay up to now, we must proceed with courage, speed and forthrightness to adopt the controls which will insure stability and fairness in our civilian economy."

Mr. Wilson today pledged "every effort to see that small business gets a fair share of defense contracts and survives the coming squeeze on civilian materials."

He gave that pledge in testimony before the Senate's small business committee. Some senators have voiced the fear that small manufacturers may be put out of business by production controls unless they obtain defense work.

Mr. Wilson, in his first appearance on Capitol Hill since becoming head of the Office of Defense Mobilization, conceded there "unfortunately" will be a time lag in some cases between the curtailment of civilian output and the conversion of plants to defense production.

But he said he is instructing production administrator William H. Harrison, acting through the small business office of the National Production Authority, to establish methods by which small firms can be fitted into the defense effort and will not suffer "disproportionately by controls."

As officials of the Economic Stabilization Agency and other agencies explained it, the government's wage-price plan appears to shape up about like this:

A general price freeze is planned to slow the rise in cost of living until detailed price ceilings can be worked out for all items. Prices will be rolled back to some extent, Jan. 1 has been mentioned as a possible date.

Wages will be frozen temporarily or controlled under some formula yet to be announced. Most farm prices cannot be legally frozen at present levels, but the order will affect food prices in every way allowable under the Defense Production Act. Rationing of goods at retail is not expected to come for a few months.

Mr. Wilson's words, "whatever the causes for delay up to now," obviously referred to the lack of a big staff at the E.S.A.

That agency is rushing its expansion program to meet the emergency. An E.S.A. spokesman said 13 regional offices will probably open next week—well before the previous target date of Feb. 1. Other E.S.A. officials reported that the enforcement division will be ready to do a "creditable job."

Mr. Truman laid down the manpower policy in a memo to heads of government departments and agencies. Although calling for voluntary measures now, he said controls will be used "when and to the extent needed to assure production."

He said under questioning, however, he would like an affirmative expression of support from Congress.

A reporter told Mr. Truman that the Democratic majority in the Senate is working on a resolution expressing approval of the use of American troops as part of General Dwight D. Eisenhower's command for the defense of western democracies.

The President indicated he did not know about the move, but he said he would like an affirmative expression of approval.

Mr. Truman added he will do whatever is necessary in the developing world situation.

The Democratic move got underway after Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican leader, offered a resolution opposing the dispatching of troops to Europe without congressional sanction.

A number of Republicans, including Senator Taft of Ohio, have contended that the President cannot send such troops on his own authority.

U.S. Presses For U.N. Censure; Big Red Blow Waited In Korea

Allies Battle Foe In Bitter 'Local' Clash

U.N. Raider Patrols Stab Along Front As Communists Mass

TOKYO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Allied troops battled a strong force of Chinese Reds tonight in a brief but fierce local clash on the Korean western front.

Allied commanders expect a general Communist offensive at any time. "All hell might break loose soon," an officer said.

A U.N. raider patrol, one of several exploring the strength of enemy troops massed all along the battlefield, jabbed in and out of Kumyangsang, 25 miles southwest of Seoul.

The commander of the Allied motorized patrol said he met strong resistance in Kumyangsang and called for air support when it appeared his troops were being flanked.

But after 90 minutes of tough fighting, he said both his patrol units had safely withdrawn from the battered town.

The Kumyangsang battle was the heaviest action reported by Allied patrols. They penetrated as far as abandoned Wonju, 26 miles north of Chungju, a road hub in U.N. hands.

An ominous quiet prevailed in most sectors, but there was abundant evidence of heavy Red troop concentrations.

Communist forces massed in the west, below Seoul, are expected to strike down the Seoul-Taejon highway when the Reds have succeeded in assembling ammunition and supplies for a sustained push.

A pre-offensive buildup of enemy troops became evident last night when U.S. Fifth Air Force B-26 bombers sighted six Red troop trains and attacked five. Pilots claimed one was destroyed and four others damaged.

Highway convoys totaling more than 400 Red vehicles likewise were spotted and attacked on roads leading to central and western fronts.

Spring-like weather To Last Through Friday

The East Liverpool district will bask in spring-like weather through Friday, according to the forecaster, who said temperatures should hover near the 50 mark again tonight.

Dam 8 reported a high of 50 Wednesday afternoon and a mild reading of 42 this morning. The weatherman said the mercury may climb into the mid-60's this afternoon. Tonight's range will be 48 to 55.

There may be some rain tomorrow before it turns colder by nightfall.

Showers since yesterday totaled 0.24 inch of precipitation, but dam attendants said the Ohio River virtually was stationary at 18.8 feet this morning.

Most of the country had mild weather with temperatures in the 50's in the Gulf states and northward. Laredo, Tex., had 80 yesterday.

In Korean Fighting Casualties Reach 45,137 As U.S. Adds To Names

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Total announced U.S. combat casualties in Korea rose to 45,137 today. The total, disclosed by the Defense Department, was based on notifications to next of kin through Jan. 12. It was 2,424 more than the figure for the previous week.

The department listed 6,509 killed, 29,951 wounded and 8,677 missing in action.

The wounded include 772 who since have died of wounds. Total deaths reached 7,303, including deaths from wounds and 22 known dead among the missing in action.

The missing figure also includes 822 men who since have returned to American control and 108 known prisoners of war.

Ohio Throws Sharp 'One-Two' Punch At Information On Horse Race Betting

COLUMBUS, Jan. 18 (AP)—Distribution of horse race betting information absorbed a quick "one-two" punch in Ohio yesterday.

Governor Frank J. Lausche told the U. S. Senate crime investigating committee in Cleveland the federal government should ban wire services which cross state lines for the sole purpose of promoting wagering on horses.

And, in Columbus, Representative Kenneth W. Thornton (R) of Cuyahoga county, introduced a bill in the Ohio House of Representatives which would permit distribution of such information in Ohio only during the racing season set by the state racing commission.

The bill, introduced only a couple of hours after Mr. Lausche testified at the committee hearing, provides:

"No person, association, trust or corporation shall disseminate or participate in or contribute to the dissemination to the general public of any information concerning horse racing except during the regular racing season for the state of Ohio as established and approved by the racing commission of Ohio."

Mr. Thornton's measure would ban publication of horse race betting information by newspapers, magazines and the like and broadcasts by either radio or television stations. Information in the taboo category would include horses, jockeys, scratches, betting odds, results and parmutuel winnings or losses. The measure, however, does not specifically mention race wires.

It sets up a modest $100 fine for the first offense. But each subsequent violation would make the offender liable for fines of $1,000 to $5,000 and one to five years in prison.

Even if the Thornton bill becomes law, however, the citizens of Ohio would not necessarily be kept in complete ignorance of racing news—so long as the information is kept on a sports, and not a gambling, plane.

News stories and radio descriptions of major racing events are exempt so long as they do not promote betting. And distribution of racing information otherwise banned is permitted on racing at Ohio tracks.

Representative John J. Lynch (D) of Mahoning county, came up with another proposal affecting newspapers yesterday. He proposed that the assembly repeal the 10-year-old law which exempts newspaper reporters from disclosing in court their sources of information.

Virtually the same law has been placed on the statute books of a number of states during the last 20 years.

A pair of bills to "get tough with chiselers" in the fields of relief and unemployment compensation were dropped into the House hopper by Representatives Robert F. Groneman and Al Glandorf, Cincinnati Republicans.

6 More Enter Names In Bid At Primaries

2 From City, 4 From Salineville File For Municipal Positions

Two new East Liverpool candidates filed Wednesday with the County Election Board—former Councilman Paul V. Baxter seeking the Second Ward seat on the Republican ticket, and William F. Walker, a Health Board member, bidding for the Fourth Ward post on the Democratic ticket.

Four Salineville men also filed for the May 8 primaries, first to enter from the village.

All Republicans, they are: Mayor Karl J. Lindner, seeking a new term; Councilman Homer D. Barcus, also seeking re-nomination; Earl W. Davison, a council candidate, and R. Eugene Yohst, seeking a new term on the Board of Trustees of Public Affairs.

Mr. Baxter is a veteran of three council terms, two in the Second Ward and one in the Third. His first tenure was in the Third, then he won the seat in the Second after moving to McKinnon Ave. His last term ended in 1947.

Mr. Baxter has been in the sign business in East Liverpool 20 years and operates the Baxter Neon Sign Co. Born in East Liverpool, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Baxter, he is married.

Conveyor Belt Bill Delayed Till Next Week

COLUMBUS, Jan. 18 (INS)—The Ohio legislature wound up its first four-day week today awaiting the introduction of the belt conveyor bill and ready to fight over another new batch of controversial measures.

The "rubber railroad" bill, to give the right to condemn land for a right of way to a proposed belt conveyor to haul coal, ore and limestone between Lake Erie and Ohio River ports, now will not be introduced until next week, its sponsor said. However, it already is stirring heat in corridor debate.

stop gambling, Mr. McBride shot back:

"If you want to stop gambling on the horses, stop the race tracks. Why permit them to gamble inside when they can't gamble out?"

He insisted "the trouble starts at the track" and said the Continental wire is a legitimate enterprise to carry racing information.

He conceded during his four hours on the stand that he had been associated from time to time with "Big Al" Polizzi and other ex-convicts.

But he added: "I have had 50 boys in my lifetime that went to prison and everyone that I helped out turned out to be pretty good boys."

He said he thought Mr. Polizzi was "a good family man."

The crime committee, seeking to uncover a vast empire of interstate racketeers, plans to quiz Mr. Polizzi today. He is now a real estate operator in Florida, but went to prison in 1944 on "black market" charges in whisky sales.

He used to live in Cleveland and has a long record with police here. Mr. McBride also testified yesterday that he and Mr. Polizzi are now engaged in a $102,000 real estate deal at Coral Gables, Fla., near Miami.

Throughout the intensive questioning, Mr. McBride insisted he had never engaged in any "criminal activities" and had never known anyone in the old Al Capone mob.

Investigators had him on the stand principally to discover his connections with Continental Press.

Mr. McBride founded Continental Press in 1939. In 1946, James Ragen, who was then running the agency, was murdered in Chicago.

This shooting, the investigators say, was done by the old Al Capone crowd, then running a rival

Race Wires Linked To 3 County Towns

A chart displayed at the Senate Crime Investigating Committee's session in Cleveland Wednesday showed three Columbus county towns obtain horse racing results from two of three agencies for Continental Press Wire Service.

One agency, J. E. Edwards of Steubenville, distributes results to Salem, while the Empire Service Co. of Cleveland sends results to East Liverpool and Wellsville bookies through Crowley Publishing of Steubenville, sub-distributor.

Widowed In Noronic Fire Chester Woman Leaps To Death In Swollen Ohio

A Chester woman widowed in the Noronic disaster leaped to her death in the swollen Ohio River Wednesday night as relatives hurried to the Newell Bridge after they found a note indicating she intended to take her own life.

But they arrived too late to prevent Mrs. Beatrice Clapperton, 50, from jumping into the swift stream, which had surged to 18 feet after yesterday's rains.

Joe McCormack of Newell, night toll taker, said an autist reported he saw a woman leap from about midstream. The attendant called police and firemen launched the disaster skiff from the Ohio side to make a search.

Mrs. Clapperton left an umbrella and purse on the bridge and it also contained a note instructing the finder to call relatives.

The note she left at home referred to her husband's death and to her nervous condition and said she intended taking her own life. Relatives said she had been depressed and extremely nervous for over a year.

Rain and darkness and the rough condition of the river hampered firemen, however. They

Wants China Branded As Aggressor

Acts After Peiping Turns Down 'Final' Cease-Fire Move

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Jan. 18 (AP)—The United States plans to seek an indictment of Red Chinese aggression at an emergency meeting of the United Nations political committee today, called to consider Peiping's rejection of its latest Korea peace bid.

On orders from Secretary of State Dean Acheson, the American delegation prepared to introduce a resolution which would

President Promises
Pressure On U.N.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—President Truman said today the United States will bring every pressure it can to brand the Chinese Communists Aggressors in Korea.

At a news conference, Mr. Truman said he endorses completely the statement yesterday by Secretary of State Dean Acheson turning down as "unacceptable" the Chinese Communist reply to a United Nations cease-fire proposal.

condemn Communist China as an aggressor and ask the U.N. collective measures committee to decide what to do next.

The U.S. previously has said it thinks that 14-nation group should recommend a complete economic and diplomatic break with the Peiping regime.

The U.S. began lining up support for its resolution yesterday, but response in many quarters appeared to be less than enthusiastic.

An American spokesman said this country hopes for wide co-sponsorship of the resolution, including some Asian countries, but indicated the necessary preliminaries may delay introduction until tomorrow.

In Paris, France officially agreed today to condemn Red China as an aggressor, but urged, however, that such a move be slowed so that "we may study carefully all the possible consequences."

An independent survey of Asian opinion showed only the Philippines, Thailand (Siam) and Turkey in substantial agreement with the U.S. position.

India's Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said in Paris yesterday that such action would "bolt and bar the door" to a peaceful solution of Far Eastern problems.

His representative here is expected to argue that Peiping's reply did not completely close the door, as the U.S. maintains it did, and further efforts should be made.

The U.N. proposal offered the Chinese Reds a political conference to settle the future of Formosa and whether the Nationalists or Communists should have China.

East End Woman's Husband Is Wounded

Private First Class Jack Giralico Jr., whose wife, the former Alice Wagner, resides at 2117 Harvey Ave., was wounded slightly in action in Korea at Christmas time. He is the son of Mrs. Jack Giralico, 85-E, Midland Heights.

He was injured Dec. 24 or 25 while serving with the Fourth Signal Battalion of the 10th Signal Corps.

Private Giralico enlisted in the Army in 1945 and served in Korea and Japan before the current war. He was home on furlough last July and was due to be discharged but the Korea outbreak added a year to his term of enlistment.

He is convalescing at a hospital in Nagoya, Japan. He worked for the Treadwell Construction Co., Midland.

Two East Liverpool men and one from Wellsville were accepted for service Tuesday at the Army and Air Force Recruiting Station. They were Kenneth W. Suplita, 715 Edwards Ave., a World War II veteran who joined the Air Force for duty at Wright-Patterson Field at Dayton and Richard L. Barr, 1216 Pennsylvania Ave., and Francis A. Vallera, 319 Second St., Wellsville, who went to the Army at Ft. Knox, Ky. The recruiting office received the recommendation that men entering the Air Force have with them civilian clothing to present a neat appearance during off-duty hours because of insufficient material to furnish complete uniforms. Lack of civilian clothing, however, will not prevent acceptance of men for service, it was explained.

Bigger Excise Tax List Eyed

Increase In Liquor Levy Also Talked Of

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—A highly-placed member of the House told newsmen today he expects a broad expansion of excise taxes—and perhaps a boost of the impost on liquor from $9 to $12.

Whisky and tobacco now are the largest excise revenue sources. The legislator said the excise list—now including many so-called luxury items such as jewelry, cosmetics, movie tickets, luggage and furs—must be expanded greatly if anything near $16,000,000,000 in new taxes is to be raised.

Meanwhile a movement developed in Congress to delay any action on the biggest tax bill in history until the lawmakers vote on proposals to trim President Truman's $71,594,000,000 budget.

This may mean that new tax increases for more than 50,000,000 individual taxpayers will not take effect until July 1 or later.

The legislative source said he believes Congress will try to reduce the budget first in the hope of easing the need for all the $16,500,000,000 tax boost the administration has requested.

Senator Byrd (D) of Virginia has proposed the budget be cut by $7,000,000,000 and that taxes be increased by $9,500,000,000 instead of $16,500,000,000. Such action, he said, would balance the budget without denying a dollar needed for defense.

Meanwhile the Council of State Chambers of Commerce said Mr. Truman's budget presents six major Fair Deal schemes in the guise of defense necessities.

In its review of the budget, the council also found other threats to economy efforts in what it called the jockeying of many peacetime agencies to win national defense status.

It listed as Fair Deal schemes urged in the name of defense:

Further nationalization of electric power; federal aid to education; extending federal subsidization and control of agriculture; imposing a system of socialized medicine; expansion of government-owned industrial production facilities; and increasing the authority of the Department of Labor over state-administered unemployment compensation systems.

'Love Slaying' To Bring Chair

Amerman Sentenced To Die On May 9

MEDINA, O., Jan. 18 (AP)—Unless he appeals, Max Amerman will die May 9 in the electric chair for a murder he plotted because he loved the victim's wife. He was sentenced yesterday by a panel of three judges who convicted him of first-degree murder. His attorney declined to say whether he will appeal.

As his sentence was read, the 27-year-old farmer showed no day she had written him asking emotion. He long ago admitted him to marry her. But he re-plotting the Oct. 5 ambush shooting of his farm tenant, Harold Mast, 23.

Pleading guilty to a general homicide charge, he admitted he wanted the young agriculture student out of the way so he could resume an affair with Mr. Mast's Norwegian war bride, Randi, 24.

I love her. I can't describe it," he declared when asked why he wanted Mr. Mast killed. His pal, 18-year-old Gerald Killinger, fired the fatal blast and was convicted last month on the same charge as Mr. Amerman. He is to be electrocuted March 15. At young Killinger's trial, Mrs. Mast testified she had been intimate once with her husband's pal. Mr. Amerman said yesterday Mr. Mast had written him asking permission to marry her. But he refused to say what he did with the letters.

Tying Up The Pup

IF PRICE-WAGE and wage-price inflation is like a pup chasing its own tail, and if the pup is in danger of running over a cliff, then it is a good idea to tie up the pup.

Furthermore, if no regular dog chain is on hand and there isn't time to wait until one is available, then it is a good idea to use a makeshift. The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals will have to be philosophical.

The federal government is going to tie up the price-wage pup. It is going to use a makeshift. The society for the prevention of cruelty to wage earners and free enterprise will have to be philosophical. The government, free enterprise and wage earners cannot afford to wait any longer to do what nearly all of them have known they would have to do sometime.

It may be true, as some reputable thinkers claim it is, that price and wage controls are a snare, a delusion and a subsidy to black marketers. It may even be true that in the long run they boomerang against the people who relied on them. But it is also true, and compellingly true, that business interests and wage earners are high-pressureing Washington to do something about stabilizing wages and prices, and that Washington is responsive to their pressure. It will proceed on the twin assumptions that something is better than nothing and that the only way to begin is to begin.

Retreat Can Be Strategy

NO ONE is going to claim that the costly "withdrawal" from North Korea was planned that way. But those "reconnaissance-in-force" moves against the Chinese Communists suggest there may be more to the episode than has gone into the record so far.

The retreat in Korea may not be the almost unprecedented disaster it seemed to be a few weeks ago. It may be less like Pearl Harbor than the Battle of the Bulge. Or to go back into history, it may be more like the retreats in the War of the Revolution than the ignominious retreat from Canada in the War of 1812, which enabled the British to claim at one time that they were in control of eastern Maine as far down as the Penobscot River.

It is nothing new for the United States to sustain severe reverses in warfare, though it never has lost a war. It was licked about as often as it won in the Revolution. In the War of 1812, its land operations were consistently unsuccessful; it lost the city of Washington in one dark episode. There were many reverses in the Civil War. Only in the Spanish-American War and the Mexican War did Allied military prestige remain undimmed.

In World War I, U.S. troops shared Allied reversals. In World War II, besides Pearl Harbor, there was Bataan and there were some bad moments in the African campaign. But defeats were usually relative to something else. They are rarely absolute. The episode in Korea is still in progress.

Strong Dissent

ANOTHER strong dissent to the Washington doctrine of large public bomb shelters to be built with federal and state funds is made by Engineering News Record. The magazine suggests that funds spent for this purpose would be largely wasted, because the conception of large public bomb shelters is fundamentally wrong.

Essential defense workers, it contends, should be provided with shelters where they work. There should be numerous shelters in neighborhoods. Important public buildings should have their own shelters. And there should be intensive public education on what to do in the event of an air raid.

But there should be no money wasted on large, centralized shelters because few people would have time to reach them in the event of attack. They would cost too much for the protection they would provide.

Ohio's Governor Lausche previously had reached the same decision. In his message to the General Assembly, he advised that before any money is spent for bomb shelters, the state should take inventory of all existing sub-surface shelters in target areas. "Moreover," he added, "we should make certain that the bomb shelters are needed and that they will serve a useful purpose."

Thought For Tomorrow

THAT General Motors "car of tomorrow" which has been getting so much publicity is a gadgeteer's dream. It needs two storage batteries to take care of all its built-in features, such as hydraulic jacks for the wheels and self-opening doors.

A convertible top goes up automatically if a drop of rain falls on a sensitized spot. But no provision has been made for an automatic shutter-offer that would stop its 300-horsepower engine and ease the car off the road 10 seconds after the speedometer registered 50 miles an hour while an automatic phonograph played, "Nearer My God To Thee."

Behind The News

By George Sokolsky

It Was Never As Bad Here As There

PURCELL MKAMEY of Steelton, Pa. wrote me a long and interesting letter, the gist of which is:

"From the spelling of your name, it is to be assumed that your origin is of Polish or Russian. Is it that you are psychologically affected by this background to the extent that you use your column to try and prove how much you are against anything Russian or Communistic? Are you fair in your attacks upon people who have the will and right to their thoughts regardless of how they may disagree with yours or others?"

The why of all this is quite simple.

In 1917, when Russia rebelled against the czar and his court, against the power of Rasputin and the corruption of nobility, the many, like myself, felt that free, representative government, that liberty had pierced the last great autocratic country. Turkey had become a free country in 1908; China in 1911; now Russia had joined the march.

I was then a student at Columbia University and sought for means to go to Russia to fight and labor for liberty. I got a job as a correspondent, sailed on the old Oscar II and, after a short stay in Sweden, arrived in Petrograd. There I became editor of the Russian Daily News, an English-language newspaper.

As a working newspaperman, charged with the task of reporting daily on events and publishing them in the city which was then the capital of the country, I had many opportunities to come close to the situation as it developed.

I WITNESSED the struggles of Kerensky against both the Communists and the czarists. I was present at the seizure of power by the Bolsheviks. I saw Lenin, Trotsky and Stalin (who was then not so important) at close quarters. I had to understand the movements which were influencing millions of human beings. I lived under the Communists from October, 1917, to March, 1918.

The heartbreak of it was that there was no will for liberty among the Marxists. They only sought power. Their own phrase for it was that they "took power."

I was present at all the sessions of the constituent assembly which had been called before the Bolsheviks took over. They laughed at the idea of the elected representatives of the people determining the basic law of the country. They sent sailors to break it up.

I witnessed the suppression of every organ of the people—the church, the press, meetings, political parties. Quickly they restored the despotism of the czars. It was a despotism without restraint.

Human freedom was a value which I had taken for granted. I was born in the United States, where I had never felt the force of government on my back like a lash. I knew no class, no race, no religious struggle. My father went to his synagogue on the Sabbath and we children walked behind him, as our Irish and German neighbors went to their churches on Sunday. In America, even God could be taken for granted.

It was in Siberia that the question of God and country and human liberty became an issue that had to be worked out. I had seen the degradation of man. I had seen men and women who did not fear death, but who did fear life.

FOR 13 years after that, I lived and worked in China. Many of the names you now read about, I knew as young men and women, my own age. My associations with Sun Yat-sen were close. I knew Chiang Kai-shek before he became a figure. I knew many of the present Communist leaders as far back as 1919 when I was adviser to the Shanghai Students Union, whose scroll still hangs on my wall.

But the question of human liberty and country and God was not answered in China. Our troops today speak of the brutality of the Oriental, their habit of shooting the sick and wounded and prisoners of war.

And always it came to me: From what is derived mercy, compassion, pity, charity, love? Can men be free without God?

To understand my own necessity for God, I read and studied the enemy. I devoted myself to every biologic and physical evidence of the futility of the supernatural. But it did not do in the realm of man's relationship to man.

For the most that Karl Marx could establish was that those men and those things survived which struggled hardest in a suitable environment to survive. Yet, I also witnessed the elevation of the spirit of love daily in the works of compassionate men who lived in freedom.

In my own country, the United States, I knew freedom. I also knew God. Of course, any human society has faults. But I could say in 1931, in the depth of the depression, that I could find no condition of life in America, material or spiritual, that was as unfavorable as that to which I had for 14 years become accustomed in Russia and Asia.

The Test Is Here

By J. M. Roberts Jr.

NEW YORK

GET message proposing billions for defense is the greatest warning yet handed the Kremlin against pursuit of its expansionist policies.

It is concrete reassurance to America's allies.

And it also serves notice on the American people of the tests to which their support of the idea of collective security is to be put in the coming years.

Only a few years ago the people were told by another president that a national income of 80 billion dollars a year would provide an economy in which everyone would be all right. Now we soon will be spending that much for defense alone, unless all signs fail.

No artificial controls or economic measures can prevent a dropping living standard if such expenditures continue long. Raw materials, capital wealth and manpower which should go into an expanding economy will be diverted for preparedness. If the international tension continues year after year, as it will may, pinches in consumer goods will become gorges.

Europe, an example of what happens to living standards in an area which constantly devotes vast resources to military establishments, is amazed at the calm confidence with which the U. S. can face such a prospect.

No other country could attempt such a program, except with slave labor and complete disregard for living standards. Almost any other country would prefer to make a deal with the Kremlin, which could be done, at least for a time, by the sacrifice of all principle and the formal division of the world into spheres of influence.

But this would not be a division merely into "free" and "slave" spheres, with the lion and the lamb lying down together. The threat from the "slave" sphere would continue and one or more powers would have to exploit the "free" sphere to maintain the balance. The United States, wanting no part of that, will instead try to carry a tremendous part of the load of defense against aggression. There has been no such test of the United States since the years of pain which accompanied its birth.

Failure to "stand hatched" during the test could have but two general results—a retreat into isolationism with its resignation of world leadership and its submission to existence—which might itself be very brief—in a world organized against us or a "preventive" war.

There will be a strong natural tendency to lash out against those responsible for the conditions faced. Great patience will be required to give Allied diplomats a chance to work from the "position of strength" which they desire.

But the economic ordeal will still be less than that of trial by arms.

And if war comes anyway, the preparedness will prove the life-belt of the nation.

Standing Pat

THE possibility that an atomic bomb may hit the nation's capital is discussed in Washington, a great deal, but so far none of the Washington residents have taken to the hills.

This conclusion was reached after sampling real estate men's opinions. The survey was far from complete, but those talked to unanimously agreed: There's no noticeable rush to get out of town.

Only this week a budget official quoted President Truman as saying the government must not flee Washington if enemy air raids should come.

What would happen to the civilian populace under these circumstances, no one knows. Right now, it's staying put.

Charles J. Rush of the real estate board of Washington points out that for years people have been moving farther and farther out of town. That trend isn't peculiar to Washington, of course.

For instance, Harold Ickes and Dean Acheson have farms in Maryland and General George C. Marshall and Arthur Godfrey have places in Virginia.

Many a lesser light has followed them.

"I haven't heard of any trend just because of the bomb," Mr. Rush said.

Keep The Light Turned On

It Shouldn't Be Truman's Policy Alone

By Walter Lippmann

THE ARGUMENT about President Truman's right to send an army abroad is demonstrating once more that the great rule of the Constitution is common sense.

The system of our government is impossible if headstrong theorists take charge. The system is workable when the men who hold the offices mean to make it work by being themselves sensible and practical.

Thus one set of theorists is arguing that the President has the right to send armies abroad without the permission of Congress. Another set of theorists is arguing that Congress, which must pass laws to draft men and to appropriate money, has a right to say whether there shall be any armies for the President to send abroad.

Each of these theories leads to an absurdity—the ultra-presidential theory to a commander in chief who might not have any army to command; the ultra-congressional theory to an army which was not under the orders of the commander in chief.

These absurdities disappear under the rule of common sense. Since the President needs the continuing support of this Congress and its successors in order to maintain large forces, the sensible thing for him to do is to convince the Congress that his policies are sound and then to commit the Congress to them.

This is what I understand it, is the position of Senator Taft and also of Senator George and of Senator Douglas. They recognize that this is a question of policy, not of legal right, and that the practical and sensible, the expedient and the wise, thing for the President to do is to invite the Congress to participate in the decision.

HIS UNWILLINGNESS to do that is hard to understand. The decision to place large American armies on the European continent, to place them within striking distance of the greatest of all existing armies, is to accept an enormous risk.

Those of us who believe that it is a correctly calculated risk, and that we should take it, ought to feel that the whole nation has understood and accepted the reasons for the decision and that with its eyes open the nation has agreed to share the responsibility.

Why Mr. Truman should want to take the whole responsibility on himself, why he should reject rather than invite, indeed insist upon, sharing his awful responsibility with Congress, I cannot imagine.

Last June, the day after he intervened in Korea, Mr. Taft offered to support a resolution approving his action. Was it wise to ignore this offer from the leader of the opposition? Is it really a good idea to wage wars and to leave the opposition party without formal responsibility for them?

It might be a good idea to do that, or at least it might be good clean fun to snub the opposition, if it were certain that all wars would end promptly, agreeably and triumphantly.

But for hard, bitter and long wars it is downright folly to let the opposition escape the responsibility. Mr. Truman, if he possessed the faculty of seeing ahead and of seeing the consequences of his decisions, would be demanding that the Congress stand up and be counted.

HAD THE President done that, he would not now be confronted with the Coudert-Wheery effort to deprive him of his constitutional powers, or with the deeply destructive and demoralizing debate as to whether the Korean war is "legal" and whether the Eisenhower mission is "constitutional." There was never any doubt that the overwhelming majority of the Congress would support the Korean intervention.

Nor, had the matter been handled with common sense, would there have been any doubt that the Congress would support by a substantial majority the Eisenhower mission. Mr. Truman's troubles with Congress are self-induced. The whole question of his rights and powers would never have been raised, had he exercised his rights and powers with tact, with discretion. Here, I think, he is getting bad advice from some of his supporters when they cite all the many instances where a President has committed our armed forces abroad without prior congressional consultation and approval.

Are those who cite all these precedents meaning to say that because the President has often landed troops abroad and engaged in hostilities without going first to Congress for approval, that, therefore, he ought as a matter of principle never to go to Congress in matters of this sort?

As I read the history, the President has the right and the duty to act for the security of the United States, and need not consult Congress first if to do that would jeopardize the vital interests of the United States, and he may even break the law if in his judgment the highest interests of the United States require it.

But at the earliest opportunity the President is accountable to the Congress for his actions and he must seek as soon as the national interest permits it the approval of the Congress for what he has done.

APPLIED to the Korean war, the President had a right to intervene without the prior approval of Congress, since he had a right to believe that there could be no delay if a great interest was not to be sacrificed.

But when the next day Mr. Taft offered to support a resolution approving the President's intervention, Mr. President would have served the Constitution, his policy and himself had he snapped up Mr. Taft's offer.

Applied to the troop commitment in Germany, it is necessary to remember that there is plenty of time to consult Congress and to obtain an affirmative vote of approval.

All the precedents which arise from emergencies that the President had to meet are irrelevant here. So also are all the cases where the whole military action by the President was concluded with the forces already in existence and already under his command.

The army that is to go to Germany is not yet in existence. And when it is in existence, it will require continuing action by the Congress to maintain it.

Is there any historical precedent, which in these essential respects, is at all analogous? I believe not.

We are, in fact, planning to do something which we have never done before. We are planning to station more or less permanently abroad a large American army.

This is a new and radical departure in the high policies of the United States, involving great costs, great risks, far-reaching responsibilities and consequences that are not clearly predictable.

I myself have long favored this new and radical policy. But I can think of no surer way to add to its difficulties and dangers than to make it Mr. Truman's personal policy, to exclude the Congress from all personal responsibility for it and to enter upon it with the nation uninformed, unconsulted and divided.

Once Over

1951 Kentucky Derby

"TRADITION-BOUND turfmen, accustomed to names like Twenty Grand, Whirlaway, Man O'War, Citation, Equipoise and Assault in classic racing annals, are buzzing over the naming of a colt named Uncle Miltie as the most likely winner of the 1951 Kentucky Derby."—News item

"Twas Derby Day at Churchill Downs, The classic was at hand, Kentucky colonels strutted in The Bluegrass manner grand. All highways to the track were jammed, From distant points folks came To feel the great traditions of The race so rich in fame.

I fought my way into the track, My face the ruddy tint Required from a devotee Of thoroughbreds and mint. Of thoroughbreds I perceived, They were distinctly new. I asked a steed's position and A man said, "Channel Two!"

I heard two experts talking of A horse exclaim, "That thing! Just doesn't figure in this race—He's just auditioning!" They whispered of another horse And showed no shade of doubt! "No good!" they said, "the poor bum lost His sponsor last time out!"

But finally the big race came, "They're off!" went up the cry, "It's Howdy Doodly in the lead, He's out to do or die. Now Kukla has his nose ahead, A fast eighth he just ran. Another colt is coming fast, It looks to me like Fran!"

"Now Beany Time is showing speed, And Faye is creeping up. What is that coming faster now? It looks like Lucky Pup! Chuck Wagon now is galloping, Kate Smith is on her toes. The Schnozzle's coming very fast—He's leading by a nose.

Quite dizzy did I find myself, A turfite, born and bred; I next heard, "Now it's Mortimer! Old Snerd, who's out ahead! Look! Something else is charging through— It's in the lead and how! Just let me see the saddle cloth—It's UNCLE MILTIE NOW!"

Then came the stretch-run and the voice "The winner, GROUNDHOG MARX! With Olsen's Rumpus Room in next Just nosing out Bert Parks!" I came to when a doctor asked, "What happened?" . . . I said, "Son, I bet on Burns and Allen but I guess they didn't run!" (c) The Associated Newspapers)

Yesterdays

From The Review Files

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO — Trades and Labor Council went on record as being opposed to the purchase of the Vorndran property on St. Clair Ave. as the site for East Liverpool's proposed new market house.

A large force of men was engaged in cutting ice from the lake at Rock Springs Park and storing it in the ice house at the rear of the dancing pavilion.

P. K. Thoms and E. F. Cunningham debated the need for a larger army and navy at a meeting of the Garfield Parent-Teachers Association.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—L. H. Johnson of Lisbon, assistant county superintendent of schools, was granted a Master of Arts degree by the Teacher College at Columbia University in New York.

Howard A. Weaver of Beaver was named sales manager for the Litten Motor Sales of East Liverpool.

The five-kiln plant of the Peach Porcelain Co. at the foot of West Sixth St. was destroyed by fire with a loss estimated by Harry Peach, the president, at about $100,000.

TEN YEARS AGO—Dr. C. R. Fisher, Hancock county health commissioner, ordered the closing of schools and churches in the county to check the spread of influenza.

Safety-Service Director William Watkins ordered police to "crack down" on automobile drivers who "crash" traffic lights and park on the sidewalk on Walnut St. near the new A. & P. Market.

The Nellis Construction Co. broke ground for the new $13,715 manual arts addition to the Wellsville High School building on Center St.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

AS WE UNDERSTAND it now, Mr. Truman has full power to send troops anywhere he wants, but he had better ask Congress before he does it.

We are indebted to Senator Paul Douglas for the clarification. Now we know exactly what is the situation. Repeat . . . What is the situation?

I just reread the Constitution, using a large magnifying glass, and there is nothing in there about this point. But it may be we are operating under an expanded edition.

Anyway, the point is taken late. We have a lot of fellows in Korea who didn't get their bon voyage messages from Congress. And it was no voluntary 60-day vacation cruise either.

But any time is a good time to establish that the Constitution is more concrete than elastic, even though it has been bent considerably in the last dozen years.

If it isn't a good document, why are we so terribly proud of it?

The Department of Commerce and Labor was created Feb. 14, 1903, and was divided March 4, into two, separate departments.

29 New Aides Named In CD At Wellsville

Advisers, Directors Change Organization From Federal Setup

Twenty-nine additional appointments were announced at a meeting of the Advisory Council and assistant directors of the Wellsville Civil defense Wednesday night at the City Hall.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis, head of the unit, said the purpose of the meeting was to switch from a federal defense setup to conform with the state program. Chief Lewis said it was organized under the federal setup several months ago pending instructions from the state corps.

It means only the shifting of a few titles and responsibility from one director to another.

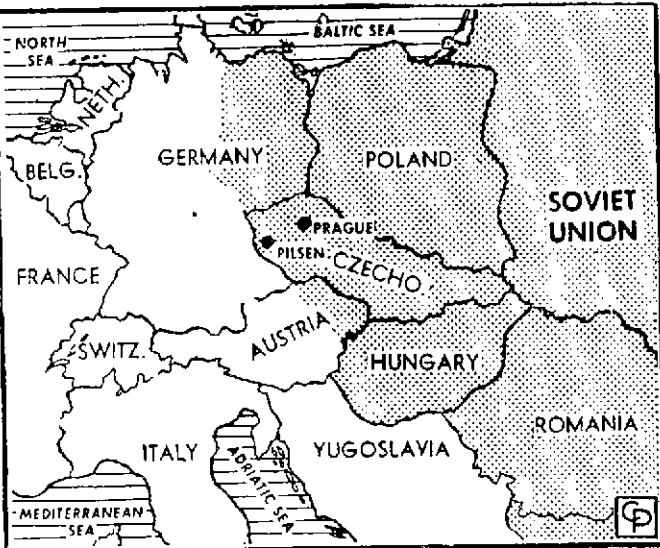

Personnel appointed by Mr. Lewis and approved by the advisory committee includes:

Dr. D. H. Beaumont, assistant director of health; Rev. Jack Little, director of supply; S. E. Daw, training; Willard Havelock, chemical warfare; George Schneidermiller, planning; Ed Pugh, information, and Mrs. Dorothy Mundy Hays, records.

William Wooley, assistant director of transportation, listed the appointment of E. L. Ewing, 407 Fifth St., George Adams, 615 Broadway, George R. Wellington, 1110 Main St., and Pat Sattis, 714 Clark Ave., as war leaders.

J. L. Finney, Third Ward air raid captain, announced the completion of wardens for his area.

Wellsville Savings Firm Re-Elects Officers

Officers and two members of the board of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association of Wellsville were re-elected when directors met Wednesday night.

They are: William T. Pomeroy, president; T. A. Hibbins, vice-president, and Charles Couls, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Hibbins and C. D. Pratt were re-elected for three-year terms as directors. Five other directors are holdovers.

Wellsville Helps Aged Couple Made Homeless In Fire

Wellsville citizens have rushed to the aid of an old-age pensioner and his sister whose one-room home on the old Salineville Road was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Rocco Volino, Wellsville contractor, is leading a move to help finish a new home for the pensioner, J. T. Price, was building near the one that was burned.

Mr. Volino said anyone wishing to volunteer for work over the week end should call him at Wellsville 1001-R2.

Mr. Price and his sister, Mrs. Ada Hall, also have appealed for clothing and furniture. All their possessions were lost in the fire. Anyone wishing to donate old clothes or furniture should contact Joe Curry, 543 Main St., between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. and 5 to 7 p. m. Fire Chief Robert Lewis said clothing may be left at the Fire Station.

East Liverpool residents may leave clothes at the Salvation Army on Third St.

WHEN IT'S COLD OUTSIDE...
Your car engine manufactures as much as a gallon of water for every gallon of gasoline burned. Most of this water passes out through the exhaust pipe. Some slips past your piston rings into the crankcase.

IT RAINS INSIDE YOUR ENGINE...
In the summer, high engine temperatures keep most of this "blow-by" moisture from condensing. In winter, cold engines, shorter trips and slower driving leave the crankcase cold—ideal for condensation. When it's cold outside, it literally rains inside your crankcase!

CONTAMINATES YOUR OIL...
This condensed water drips into your oil. Unburned fuel from extra cold-weather "choking", together with by-products of combustion enter the oil. Oil, water and unburned gasoline are churned together into a thick, gummy substance called cold-sludge.

AND HERE'S THE RESULT!
Cold sludge plugs oil screens, piston rings and oil lines, preventing proper oil flow and lubrication. It increases oil consumption. Hurts winter gasoline mileage. Leads to engine damage and repair bills. There's only one simple, effective solution — get the contaminated oil out of the crankcase often in winter.

Come in...let us drain dirty oil now! Protect your car at..

Chiseling to the extent of $100 or more could bring, under the bill, imprisonment from one to three years. If the amount was under $100, the bill provides a fine of $500 and three months in jail. If it was a jobless compensation case, benefits also could be denied for two years.
Sweeping emergency powers for the governor in case of enemy attack on the United States are provided in a Senate bill offered by Senator Charles Carney (D) of Mahoning county.
When the attack comes, it provides, the governor could declare an emergency and, with the advice and consent of the state civil defense advisory council:

►Assume direct operational control of all civil defense forces.
►Seize all transportation and communications, fuel, food, clothing, equipment, medicine, buildings and plants.
►Sell, lend, give or distribute all or any seized property to inhabitants of the state.
►Pay for all seized property under the general rules covering condemnation proceedings.
The day's crop of 37 bills also included:
Two bills dealing with the state sales tax. Representative Fred L. Hoffman (R) of Hamilton county asked removal of the sales tax on food and prescription medicines, including food eaten in restaurants. Representative M. Gorman (D) of Cuyahoga county proposed the tax on prescription drugs be removed.
A Senate bill proposes $20-a-month "cost-of-living" payments for retired teachers and public employees who served in their jobs at least 10 years. A similar House bill would make the monthly "bonus" $15.
A proposal by Senator Oakley C. Collins (R) of Lawrence county and Senator Leo Blackburn (R) of Scioto county would give school boards until April 30 each year to decide whether teachers are to be rehired. Now teachers who are not rehired must be informed by March 31.
Other bills, briefly, would:
►Stiffen penalties for trying to intimidate jurors.
►Make Liquor Department property subject to taxes.
►Allow public employees to join labor unions.
►Ban television sets in motor vehicles within drivers' vision.
►Extend by two years the time in which cities may refund bonds.
►Extend cities' smoke abatement authority three miles beyond their borders.
►Increase minimum pay for county engineers from $2,100 to $5,000 and maximum pay from $6,000 to $10,000.
►Cut the number of health districts in the state from 202 to 95.

successful execution of the mobilization program.
Mandatory controls would require new legislation. The President said they would include:
Ceilings on the number of workers a business firm could employ, controls over job shifting and hiring and compulsory acceptance of women, handicapped workers and minority groups.
On this last point, some members of Congress commented privately it would clear the way for a Fair Employment Practices Commission. Congress has refused to pass F.E.P.C., a key portion of Mr. Truman's civil rights program.
Mr. Truman laid down this basic aim of the manpower program: "Each individual will be expected to serve in the capacity in which he can contribute most to the total mobilization program."

Transamerican soon folded, leaving Continental the sole big race news service.
Asked about this series of developments, Mr. McBride agreed with the committee that his son was scarcely consulted when the deal went through.
"Weren't you afraid for your son?" asked Rudolph Halley, chief counsel for the committee. "Ragen had been bumped off because he didn't get along with Tony Accardo and Jack Guzik and the rest of the Chicago gang. Why should you put your own son in-

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .
When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Don't suffer longer with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.
Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While often otherwise caused, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—rich the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

My son might get killed by a brick from this building. Mr. McBride replied.
But Mr. Halley insisted towards the close of the session: "Continental Press is and was Arthur B. McBride."

ON DEC. 29 IN the Spruce St. Methodist Church in Morgantown, Miss Eleanor Elizabeth Cunningham became the bride of Don Lee Smith. Rev. Rowland Aspnall officiated for the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lucille Cunningham, 201 Baun St., and the bridegroom is the son of Luther M. Smith of Wheeling and Mrs. Bradford Smith of Philippi, W. Va.

Miss Mary Black and Leo Torch, both of Morgantown, were attendants.

Teal blue crepe with black accessories were worn by the bride and her corsage was of pink rose buds.

The bride has been employed for the last seven years in the painting and Luray departments at Taylor, Smith & Taylor Pottery. The couple are residing in Philippi.

MISS MARY BETH VARIAN and Albert Arlington Cronin were united in marriage Jan. 10 at 6 o'clock in the parsonage of the Church of God. Rev. A. L. Lewis, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Varian of Seventh Ave., LaCroft, and the bridegroom resides with his grandmother, Mrs. Irene Barrett of Lawrenceville.

White accessories were worn with the bride's pink street-length dress and her corsage was of white gardenias.

Miss Melba Barrett, aunt of the bridegroom, and William Barrett, his uncle, were attendants and the bride's parents were witnesses.

A wedding supper for the immediate families followed at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a member of the Junior Class at East Liverpool High School and will continue her studies at the University of Chester High School and is employed as shipping clerk at the American Paper Products Co. They are residing in Lawrenceville.

PLANS FOR THE ANNUAL banquet and dance were outlined at the meeting of the Band and Orchestra Mothers Association of East Liverpool High School Tuesday night in the band room at the Memorial Auditorium.

The tentative date is April 6 at the Country Club and Mrs. Charles Kittredge Jr., president, set a committee meeting of chairmen and co-chairmen.

Committee reports were heard and the group realized $360 on the Ohio University-Westminster College basketball game Nov. 24.

Plans were made to award music letters and pins at the spring concert, instead of at the banquet as in previous years.

It was reported that the vacant lot above the Memorial Auditorium on East Fourth St. will be leveled by Mike Turk and will be available for band practice.

Mrs. Albert Pittenger, program chairman, introduced Miss Agnes Cleveland, who presented a program of readings.

The social committee included Mrs. Herbert Snow, Mrs. Alfred Van Dyne, Mrs. Gus Mautz, Mrs. Frances Sadler, Mrs. Harold Dawson and Mrs. Michael Lucas. Fifty were present and an arrangement of roses and chrysanthemums centered the buffet table.

The next meeting will be Feb. 20.

Mr. Barcus of West End, is seeking his second term as councilman. He was appointed to fill a vacancy in council in 1948. He also is a miner at the Hirst Co. Mr. Yohst, Republican incumbent on the Board of Public Affairs, will seek his second term. He resides on State St. and is a teacher of Industrial Arts at the High School.

Lisbon Distributes Polio Coin Receptacles

LISBON, Jan. 18 (Special).—The Lisbon branch of the Salem City Hospital Auxiliary, sponsor of the local March of Dimes, opened its campaign Wednesday with the distribution of coin boxes to business houses.

Coin cards will be distributed to schools soon.

Mrs. Robert Williams and Mrs. Milton Cope, co-chairmen, said the Lisbon goal is $2,500. Approximately $1,500 was raised last year.

Mrs. Wayne Rudibaugh will be captain at Rogers, Miss Josephine Furey at Hanoverton, and William Maple at Kensington.

Prove Loyalty Or Leave, Court Tells 4,000 Nisei

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (AP).—Some 4,000 American-born Japanese, who once renounced U. S. citizenship, must prove their loyalty or be deported to Japan.

The Ninth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals so ruled yesterday in reversing a decision by Federal District Judge Louis E. Goodman, who tried the case last year.

The Japanese — Nisei — renounced their citizenship during World War II while confined at the Tulelake (Calif.) detention camp. Judge Goodman had held that they were under duress and compulsion by warmongering countrymen in the camp.

None of the Nisei concerned is in custody. But the Immigration Department says it knows where they are.

LIFE NOW WORTH LIVING

Mrs. Della Kennedy

Corrects Cause of Suffering Due to a Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin

Thanks To HADACOL

Why let punishing aches and pains, due to a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin strike and strike again to rob you of happiness, pleasure, and joyful living? Thousands, in state after state, have found that today's great HADACOL has relieved the real cause of their trouble, due to such deficiencies, and helped prevent its coming back.

Such a person is Mrs. Della Kennedy, 2849 Ionic Avenue, Jacksonville 5, Florida, who writes: "I am starting on my 3rd bottle of HADACOL and I must say I have received good results. Before taking HADACOL, I was weak and tired all the time. I had no strength to go on. My work was a drudge to me, and I felt like I could not go through the day at all. But thanks to HADACOL, I feel fine. Now, my housework is a pleasure and I feel good all the time. I feel better than I have for years. I do not have any pains now. And I feel fine and strong. I am 43 years old, and I keep house for an elderly couple. I have to work for my living as I am a widow. So you can see why I need my health."

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems

This wonderful formula not only supplies more than the daily needs of important Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin, but also helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium. Since HADACOL is in a special liquid form, these precious Vitamins and Minerals speed quickly, fast, to every part of the body, to every body organ. Recommended by many doctors. Only HADACOL gives you that "Wonderful Hadacol Feeling"—accept no substitutes. Trial size only $1.25; large family or hospital size, $3.50. Money-back guarantee. © 1951, The LeBlanc Corporation na's seat in the U.N. It demanded a cease-fire in Korea first.

Peiping countered with a rejection of the cease-fire plan and called for a seven-power conference in China to solve Far Eastern problems coincident with withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea. It also insisted on U.N. membership before the conference.

Mr. Acheson immediately denounced Peiping's proposals as completely unacceptable to the U.S. He said he thinks the U.N. generally will agree with his position.

The Scandinavian countries—Norway, Sweden and Denmark—are understood to be urging a slow and cautious approach to the problem. This also is the view of some other countries who are afraid the U.S. may commit the greater part of its armed force to the Far East and strip Europe of defenses.

British Delegate Sir Gladwyn Jebb said last week that the U.N. plan was Red China's last chance.

Church Pigeons Routed

FULTON, Ky. — Neighbors wondered what had happened when they heard a volley of shots from the direction of their First Methodist Church. Three of the churchmen, afraid that the pigeons there were about to "take over", started blasting away with shotguns and disposed of nearly 100 in one afternoon.

He indicated that Britain would follow the U.S. lead if Peiping turned down the offer.

Deaths, FuneralsJohn Forster
Services Set

Ex-Midland Man's
Rites Due Saturday

Services for John J. Forster, 89, of Beaver, former Midland resident, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the J. T. Anderson Funeral Home in Beaver.

Rev. Elmo Montag, pastor of the Beaver Presbyterian Church, will be assisted by Rev. George H. Bohlender, pastor of the Midland Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Beaver Cemetery.

He died Wednesday morning in the Rochester General Hospital following a short illness. He was a former employee of the Mackintosh-Hemphill Co.

A director of the Midland Building & Loan Association and a former member of the Board of Education, Mr. Forster is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret Miller Forster, a daughter, Mrs. Ellis E. Bernard of Beaver, two brothers, William L. Forster of Rochester and Walter T. Forster of Hamburg, N. Y., a sister, Mrs. Lavon Wallace of Avalon, Pa., and two granddaughters.

The Dennis Funeral Home in Midland has charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Alma Green

Funeral services for Mrs. Alma Green, 56, wife of Douglass Green, 349 Penn. Ave., Midland, will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. in the First Baptist Church. Midland Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery in Industry Township.

Mrs. Green died Monday night in the Rochester General Hospital, following a long illness. She was born in Kentucky and lived in Midland for 25 years. She was a member of the church.

She leaves two sons, George Green and Jesse Green, at home; four daughters, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, Miss Queen Esther Green and Miss Geneva Green at home and Mrs. Nellie D. Richmond of Indianapolis and five grandchildren.

Friends may call at the home Friday afternoon or night.

A 90-Million-Dollar PropositionWest Virginia Bills Set Up To Handle Soldier Bonus

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 18 (AP).—Compensation administration bills were introduced in the House and Senate today to set up and finance the $90,000,000 veterans bonus authorized by the voters last November.

The twin measures were introduced in the Senate by President Johnston and in the House by Speaker Flannery. They follow recommendations made by Governor Patton in his address to the joint session Tuesday.

To finance the bonus measure, higher prices on liquor, sold in state stores, an additional cent-a-pack tax on cigarettes and an additional $2.75-a-barrel tax on beer would go into effect July 1 of this year.

The Liquor Control Commission would be authorized to raise prices enough to bring in $1,600,000 in additional annual revenue based on the average annual volume of business for the last three years. The additional cigarette tax would raise the state levy per pack to two cents, while the present beer tax would be doubled to $5.50 on a 31-gallon barrel.

The existing beer tax amounts to 84 of a cent on a 12-ounce bottle to the consumer. The bill thus would raise the amount to 1.68 cents a bottle.

One of the bills would authorize issuance of $90,000,000 in bonds. They would become due serially in equal amounts starting one year after issuance and ending not more than 20 years after issuance.

The same bill would create a veterans bonus sinking fund into which all taxes levied for bonus purposes would go for use in bond retirement.

The measure setting up administration of the bonus designates the state Department of Veterans Affairs as the agency which would handle and act on applications. It also would authorize the veterans council of the department to act as a veterans bonus review board to handle appeals and provide for Supreme Court review of final orders of the review board.

bona fide resident of West Virginia for at least six months before entering into the armed forces and must have served for at least 90 days, except in the case of a disabled veteran who is still eligible if he were discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

The bill provides that only those veterans would be eligible who were not dishonorably discharged.

In the case of deceased veterans, un-remarried widows children under 16 years of age or dependent parents would be eligible in that order to receive bonus payments, provided they are residents of West Virginia at the time application is made.

Ike In Italy; Reds Protest

General Holds Talks On Nation's Might

ROME, Jan 18 (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower met today with Italian government chiefs for a look at this country's arms potential.

Communist demonstrations protesting his visit already had taken one life and caused injury to nearly 100 throughout Italy.

As the supreme commander of the projected Atlantic pact defense army swept hurriedly from palace to palace for preliminary meetings, Rome looked like a city under martial law. Police and carabinieri cleared traffic from streets through which he passed. There were no disorders reported in the capital itself.

The general first met with Premier Alcide De Gasperi. From there, escorted by riot police in red jeeps, he dashed to conferences with Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza, Defense Minister Randolfo Pacciardi and Finance Minister Ezio Vanoni. All conferences were closed and no announcements were made after they were finished.

Despite government threats of arrest, Communist-led unions called for a general strike throughout Rome to protest the arrival of General Eisenhower.

But late last night orders were changed to a one-hour walkout of workers to attend a mass meeting and to hear Communist labor leader Giuseppe Di Vittorio. During this time streetcar and bus service was ordered halted. But the government warned it will deal hard with any attempt to stop transport or public services.

West Virginia Bills Mapped

Committees Work On New Legislation

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan 18 (AP)—Committees busied themselves today as the legislature prepared for what may be its last session of the week.

Both Senate and House judiciary committees met and the House education and finance committees also planned routine sessions.

The House judiciary committee which organized at a meeting yesterday, considered some bills which may be ready for reporting to the House today.

Chairman Ralph J. Bean (D) of the Senate judiciary committee said that group will meet only to become acquainted with the work ahead of it during the session. Similar action is planned by the other two House committees.

There are strong indications no Friday session will be held this week.

No bills are ready for consideration in either House and formal sessions so far, except for organization and receiving the address of the governor, have been limited largely to introduction of bills.

Methodists Lay Plans For Rally Next Year

CINCINNATI, Jan 18 (AP)—Plans for the Methodist general conference next year in San Francisco are being drawn up here today at a meeting of church executives.

Yesterday the World Service Committee of the church disclosed that eight million Methodists contributed 231 million dollars for world service and relief between June 1948 and May 1949.

Home and foreign missions, temperance work, education, ministerial training and evangelism are financed by the world service agencies. The board of missions receive about two-thirds of the 231 million dollars.

Britain Gives Bevan Key Job

Ex-Health Minister Guides Rearmament

LONDON, Jan 18 (AP)—Britain today named the leader of parliament's powerful left-wing faction former Welsh coal miner Aneurin Bevan to spark much of her rearmament drive.

The 53-year-old former health minister was named to the key post of labor minister in a reshuffle of the cabinet announced early today.

As one of the top ministers in charge of the projected 10-billion-dollar arms program, Mr. Bevan will control many phases of production as well as the supply of manpower to expanding arms factories. He is due to receive new and far wider powers than the post now commands.

To supply the manpower, Mr. Bevan probably will have to call on the government's powers to direct labor. The invoking of these is certain to bring a howl from the labor unions. One of Mr. Bevan's jobs will be to keep the unions in line.

He has been a member of the Labor government cabinet since it took office in 1945. As health minister, he has been in charge of the nation's cradle-to-grave national health plan and the rehousing drive.

The veteran Laborite is a bitter political foe of Conservative leader Winston Churchill, whom he frequently taunts on the floor of the House of Commons. Like Mr. Churchill, he is recognized as one of the ablest speakers in British public life.

As labor minister, Mr. Bevan succeeds 68-year-old George Isaacs, who steps down to pensioners' minister. The new health minister is Hilary Marquand 49, who held the pensions post.

Newspapers forecast the cabinet reshuffle is a forerunner of more extensive governmental changes later in the year. These they said may involve ailing Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, War Minister John Strachey and Field Marshal Sir William Slim, chief of the imperial general staff.

Don't Censure Youths, Oldsters Are Advised

CHICAGO (UP)—A northwestern University psychiatrist says older people should grow old gracefully and stop criticizing the younger generation.

In a radio address sponsored by the Illinois State Medical Society, Dr. Clarence A. Neymann said older people should not censure the young just because they are strikingly ambitious and may make nuisances of themselves.

The sin of criticizing a person because of his age, he said, is usually promulgated by the older who feels wrongfully that because there are young people near him he will be pushed aside.

Britain's Canberra Jet Plane May Be Produced In America

WASHINGTON Jan 18 (AP)—The Canberra is Britain's first A group of U S Air Force and jet bomber. Designed for use as industry officials is in England a night intruder in battle zones studying the possibility of pro- it is in production there and is ducing the British Canberra two- scheduled for production in Aus- engine jet bomber in this coun- tralia.

The Air Force acknowledged A Canberra has been undergo- ing evaluation tests in this coun- try along with the Glenn L Mar- tin Co's XB-51 a three-engine jet bomber designed especially for ground support operations. The Air Force said that evaluations are continuing on other phases of its light bomber program, including the XB-51 which is under accelerated development.

The Canbera is a straight wing bomber with a span of 64 feet and a length of 63½ feet. It carries a crew of two with automatic ejection seat in a pressurized cockpit.

It is believed to have a top speed of around 550 to 580 miles an hour and a gross weight of around 55,000 pounds.

The XB-51 is a swept wing bomber with three jet engines mounted on pylons extending from the lower sides of the fuselage and one mounted in the tail. It is reported to have extremely high speed perhaps around 700 miles an hour. It has some new concepts in flight control and bomb bay operation.

C. C. Pearson, president of the Martin company, accompanied the Air Force team of experts to England, indicating a possibility that Martin might be asked to build the Canbera as well as the XB-51.

The Air Force group is headed by Lieutenant General K. B. Wolfe, deputy chief of staff for materiel. The group is expected back next week.

THE POTTERS SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY can look back to the Year 1950 as the most active year in its over SIXTY YEARS of serving the people of East Liverpool and vicinity.

714 Mortgage Loans were made and recorded totaling in amount $3,227,372.62. Of these loans made 75 were for the Construction of New Homes amounting to $645,250.00 and $219,292.62 was loaned to Repair and Improve present homes numbering 184. For the Purchase of Homes 214 Loans were made amounting to $1,077,550.00. For all other purposes 241 loans in amount of $1,294,780.00 were made. Our growth in assets was $816,618.76 — to a total on December 30 of $10,965,871.36 and would have been much more could we have accepted all money that was offered us. But for several years it has been the policy of the Company to accept only such amounts as it can see demand for loans to absorb and in so doing has been able to maintain its 3% Per Annum Dividend's (1 1/2% Semi-Annually) which during the year amounted to $260,814.89. Running Stock Deposits however have always been accepted in monthly sums of $50.00 and $100.00 from an one desiring to save. Our Stock Membership meaning all those who have an account in the Company has grown to 8,996 on January 1 of this year from 8,614 the Fall of 1950 clearly showing that the public is recognizing the importance of saving for the future. For the safety of the funds entrusted to the Company it has accumulated in Reserves $1,221,077.43 or about 15% of its membership liability. In addition to this sum accounts are insured up to and including $10,000.00 by THE FEDERAL SAVING AND LOAN INSURANCE CORPORATION. The Company also has a Quick Asset Fund $322,000.00 invested in Government Bonds which in itself is over 33% of the amount owing the members on their Savings and Investments in the Company.

We therefore believe the Company is in excellent shape to meet the gloomy outlook and what may be a store for all its Officers: John J. Purinton President C. W. Henderson Vice President Alvin C. 71 Farms Use Conservation Soil Practices

8,571 Acres Covered In County Program Conducted For '50

LISBON, Jan. 18 (Special)—Soil conservation practices were adopted on 71 Columbiana county farms covering 8,571 acres during 1950, according to an annual report from the Soil Conservation Service office.

Herman L. Reuter, unit conservationist, said 502 farm plans have been prepared and put into operation since the service was established in 1942. Over 55,100 acres are involved.

Practices recommended and the acreage involved last year included contour farming, 68; strip cropping, 1,729; pasture improvement, 250; seeding pasture, 161; wildlife area improvement, 2; woodland management, 39; tree planting, 37; farm drainage, 50, and farm ponds, 2; field diversions, 2.2 miles, and closed drains, 6,800 feet.

The 502 farmers signed up with the Soil Conservation Service for help in farm planning represent but 12 1/2 per cent of the county's total.

Mr. Reuter and his staff are employees of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and from what is known as a "work group". These groups are loaned at the request of different soil conservation districts throughout the country to help farmers set up practices.

Services of a work group were requested for the Columbiana Soil Conservation District (Columbiana county) by a five-man board of supervisors elected by farmer-landowners of the county.

Members of the board at present are James M. Huston of East Liverpool R. D. 2, chairman; Clyde Freeman of Lisbon R. D. 1, vice-chairman; Eldon Groves of Salem R. D., secretary; Don Rupert of New Waterford, treasurer, and Edwin Copeland of Millport.

James L. Pendry of Lisbon is district conservationist for five districts—Columbiana, Mahoning, Stark, Carroll and Jefferson.

Application for farm planning can be made at the work group office in the basement of the Courthouse. The only charge is an annual fee of $2.

Once the farmer signs up, the work group begins preparing a farm plan. The men tramp the fields and woods, then correlate their findings with aerial survey maps covering every farm in the county.

The map is then filled in with different colors and contour lines to show type of soil, slope and possible erosion areas. It serves as a guide for the farmer and gives him a scientific picture of his land.

A large map in the work group office shows the 502 plans now in operation fairly well distributed through the county. Up until now most of the applications have been from individual farmers, a condition Mr. Reuter hopes will change.

He explained that adjoining farms are related to one another just the same as fields on any one farm. The best soil conservation work can be done quickest if farmers combine in neighborhood groups and follow recommendations of the work group, he said.

Extent of the program is shown in a partial summary of accomplishments for the eight-year period. It follows:

Contour farming, 136 acres; cover cropping, 307; strip cropping, 14,910; pasture improvement, 3,150; pasture seeding, 1,539; tree planting, 290, and farm ponds, 18; terraces, 30 miles; field diversions, 32 miles; farm drainage, 212 acres, and closed drains, 166,300 feet.

Legion To Close Revue That's $650,000 In Red

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The American Legion says it will "fold" its musical revue, Red, White And Blue, following the evening performance at Chicago next Saturday.

This venture into big-time entertainment—which aimed at a long Broadway run following a nation-wide tour—has turned into a costly flop.

Erle Cocke Jr., Legion national commander, said that since the revue opened in Los Angeles last Oct. 7 it has performed in 20 cities and lost about $650,000. It reached Chicago Jan. 1.

"Continuance of the revue would be unwise in view of inadequate public interest at the box office," Mr. Cocke said.

The revue was written and produced by Leroy Prinz and Owen Crump of Hollywood. A nationwide talent hunt was conducted and a cast of 80 was engaged.

The hoped-for profits from the revue were to have been used for the support of Legion rehabilitation and child welfare activities.

OSU Set To Interview Grid Coach Prospects

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18 (AP)—The committee charged with making recommendations for a new head football coach at Ohio State University is about ready to begin interviewing prospects.

Richard G. Larkins, OSU athletic director and ex officio committee chairman, reported last night that "the work of the committee has progressed to a point where interviews with prospects can be started by the end of the week."

The committee met last night with the Ohio State Athletic Board.

The committee meets again (at noon) today to set up arrangements for the interviews.

The university has been looking for a new head football coach since late last year when Wesley Fesler quit to enter private business. The committee has cut an original list of 30 prospects down to about half, said Bill Snyppe, university publicist.

"Now we're getting down to a point where we can move faster," he said after last night's meeting. "Thursday's meeting will determine the date of the interviews."

Snyppe said no names of prospects were mentioned last night. However, both men who have said publicly they want the $15,000 a year job and those the university would like to have will be interviewed.

Each interview will take one day or longer, he said and all will be in Columbus.

The screening committee will make several recommendations to the athletic board which will select one name for the Board of Trustees, according to Snyppe. Five of the schools' 12 athletic board members are the screening committee.

All athletic board members will be invited to the interviews.

Last night's session was the first meeting of the athletic board since the coach hunt began, and much of the time was taken up with filling in all members with all background material, Snyppe said.

Larkins previously was instructed by the committee to make inquiries among the coaches and other university officials attending the NCAA meetings earlier this month in Dallas, Tex., as to possible candidates.

Snyppe said Larkins did not report last night on what he had accomplished at Dallas.

It was understood, however, that the committee is following the "moral rule" of contacting presidents of universities about coaches it might like to have at Ohio State.

Coach Group To Back Member For OSU Post

CINCINNATI, Jan. 18 (AP)—Ohio's high school football coaches will recommend one of their number for appointment as Ohio State grid coach if Buck officials decide to dip into the high school ranks for a successor to Wes Fesler.

Glen (Tiger) Ellison, Middletown coach and president of the Ohio High School Football Coaches' Association, disclosed last night he is polling 575 high school coaches for their recommendation.

Ellison said the ballots he sent out this week contain only one question: "If Ohio State University decides to hire a high school coach, whom do you recommend?"

Ellison said he hoped to have most of the votes in by the end of this week.

The Middletown coach emphasized that the result of the poll would be only a "recommendation" to Ohio State officials and that the association would not conduct a "pressure" campaign.

He added that Dick Larkins, Ohio State athletic director, has been assured of cooperation from the high school coaches regardless of the eventual choice.

One of the high school coaches who has been mentioned most prominently for the Ohio State job is Chuck Mather, who has directed Massillon to three straight unofficial state championships.

Another is Ellison himself.

Kills Big Deer

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 18 (AP)—The Conservation Commission said that Hugh E. McMorris, Washington, D. C., attorney and native West Virginian, killed a 226-pound deer about nine years old on a farm near Martinsburg in the December deer season. It was one of the largest shot during the season.

Racing Figure Dies

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 18 (AP)—Charles H. Hayes, 74, long prominent in central Ohio horse racing, died yesterday at his home after a two-year illness. He was one of the founders of what now is known as the Beulah Park Jockey Club. When formed, it was known as the Capital City Racing Association.

The resolution, submitted by Representative Ross H. Horford of Stark county, praised Mather and his staff for demonstrating "sterling quality and ability."

Jefferson Group Backs Mather For OSU Grid Job

STUEBENVILLE, O. (UP)—Charles (Chuck) Mather, head football coach at Massillon High School, was recommended today by the Jefferson County Ohio State Alumni organization to fill the Ohio State head grid coach vacancy.

Nathan Stern, spokesman for the Jefferson county group, said that most of the Buckeye alumni and students of this area favored Mather to succeed Wesley Fesler as head mentor.

Mather was honored in a resolution adopted by the Ohio House of Representatives Tuesday which praised his 1950 football team for winning the mythical state schoolboy championship.

The resolution said the team "demonstrated character and ability of true champions in compiling an undefeated and untied record during the past football season."

It brought lasting fame and honor to its school, its city, its county and its state through the sincerity, cleanliness and strenuousness of its efforts.

The resolution, submitted by Representative Ross H. Horford of Stark county, praised Mather and his staff for demonstrating "sterling quality and ability."

Face Quakers Saturday; Hit Toronto Friday

East Liverpool's high-flying Potters—rated one of the top 10 teams of the state—will carry their bid for more honors into Toronto and New Philadelphia this week end.

Undeclared in nine games, the bustling Blue and White basketballers converge on the Gem City Friday night and Quakertown the following evening, with fine prospects of extending their winning streak to 11 straight.

On their current form, the Potters will be favored in each game, but probably will run into plenty of difficulty at New Philly where scintillating Dave Leggett, 6-1 senior center, has been clicking off a phenomenal average of 27.4 points over a 10-game stretch.

The all-Eastern Ohio Athletic Conference pivot star and second team all-Ohio sensation Tuesday night hooped 40 points as the Quakers registered their seventh victory in 10 games. Previously, he dunked 39 in the Quakers' 78-72 loss to Zanesville.

Leggett stacks up as one of the best the Blue and White will face this season.

Coach George "Gabby" Kunzler's rebuilding at Toronto, and his predominantly junior combine of Red Knights have been trotting a rocky trail thus far, winning only two of seven games.

The Knights, however, have shown a marked improvement in their last two starts, losing a close 52-50 decision at Canton South, and Tuesday night measuring Steubenville Central, 46-42.

They opened with a 50-30 conquest of Winterville, then bowed to Youngstown South, 64-55, Follansbee, 55-39, Mingo Junction, 54-40, and Wellsville, 52-38.

Forward Ed Ristler, 6-foot regular from last year's quintet, received a knee injury early in the season and has seen little action since. It is doubtful if he'll be in shape for Friday's encounter.

Non-lettermen forming the probable lineup that will be sent against the Potters are Ron Riggleman, 5-7, and Jack Kuncad, 5-8, at forwards; Pat Mynter, 6-2, at center and Tom Sherwood, 5-11, and Johnny Karaffa, 5-8, at the guards. All are juniors except Karaffa, who is a sophomore.

Riggleman and Sherwood have been leading point parade. Others likely to break into the game are Bill Clites, a 6-foot senior, and Pat Stewart and Bob Mudron, both sophomores.

Although it's an experienced combine it has lots of fight and is fast, which has offset its lack of height.

The Potters can't afford to take them lightly.

In the first EOAC game for the Hallman Saturday, the Quakers will put three other veterans besides Leggett on the floor. The Quakers, coached by Ralph "Whitey" Gartrell, former Martins Ferry mentor, will average 6-2, the rangiest team the Potters will have faced thus far.

Other veterans include Orley Heron, 6-1, and Miller Hamilton, 6-4, at forwards; and Stan Masarelli, 6-foot, at a guard.

Jim Reese, a 6-1 forward and Dick Gurney, a 5-10 guard, probably will see action.

In order, the Quakers repulsed Coshocton, 57-55, Canton Lehman, 69-54, Uhrichsville, 64-56, lost to Zanesville, 78-72, beat Canton Timken, 56-52, lost to Coshocton, 63-51, repulsed Dover, 62-60, Canton South, 55-53, lost to Mansfield, 78-47, and Tuesday night trounced Newcomertown, 73-56.

With a 2-0 record, the Quakers currently are pacing the EOAC and need a victory over the Potters to add the cage crown to the grid title they won last fall. The Potters are defending basketball champions.

There are only two seniors on the 1950-51 edition of the Duke University basketball team.

HELD IN BASKETBALL 'FIX' Disclosure by Manhattan College basketball center Junius Kellogg (inset, left, with coach Kenny Norton) that he was approached and offered a $1,000 bribe to insure that Manhattan lost a Madison Square Garden game with DePaul led to the arrest of two former Manhattan basketball co-captains and three gamblers. Charged with bribery and conspiracy are (from left) Henry E. Poppe, co-captain of Manhattan's 1949-50 team, now a graduate, Cornelius Kelleher, 35, John A. Byrnes, former co-captain, still a student, but not a player, Irving Schwartzberg, 35, and his brother Benjamin.

College Cage Scandal May Keep Spreading

NEW YORK, Jan. 18 (AP)—College basketball's latest scandal, involving Manhattan College, may spread to other colleges.

This was indicated today in the wake of yesterday's disclosure that a Manhattan player had been offered $1,000 to throw Tuesday night's game against DePaul in Madison Square Garden, a bribe attempt that failed and led to the arrest of two former Manhattan players for throwing games last year and three men described by police as "fixers."

Edward J. Breslin, assistant district attorney of the Bronx, said he had been told that other players in New York and other cities were "doing the same thing."

And Kenny Norton, Manhattan coach, asserted "I feel that this is more than a local thing x x x. If these terms kept waving money in front of my boys faces they must have been waving some in front of other boys faces. I cannot conceive that Manhattan players are the only ones gotten to."

"The big guys haven't been caught yet," Norton added.

Manhattan a 10-point underdog, beat De Paul, 62-59 before a crowd of 11,000 in the Garden, but the attempted fix was not disclosed until yesterday afternoon.

Then police reported that, with the undercover aid given by big Junius Kellogg, Manhattan sophomore player, they had arrested Henry Poppe, 24, and John Byrnes, 22, co-captains of last year's Manhattan team, and three alleged fixers: Irving Schwartzberg, 36, his brother, Benjamin, 35, and Cornelius Kelleher, 35.

The five were arraigned on charges of bribery and conspiracy. The Schwartzberg brothers were held without bail. Bail for Kelleher was set for $15,000, for Poppe $4,000 and for Byrnes $2,500.

They are to be given a hearing on Jan. 24. If convicted they face up to five years in prison and fines of $10,000.

Kellogg, a 22-year-old from Portsmouth, Va., was offered the $1,000 bribe last Thursday, but delayed giving an immediate answer. He then contacted Norton, who with other Manhattan authorities, informed the police. Kellogg was told to pretend to go along with the deal.

Out of this came the arrests and the disclosure by Breslin that Poppe and Byrnes, Manhattan's highest scorers last season, had been involved in fixer, last year against Siena, Bradley, Santa Clara, New York University and St. Francis of Brooklyn.

For their work in these games, Breslin said, Poppe and Byrnes each received $1,000 per game or a total of $5,000 plus a weekly retainer of $40.

Siena, a 14-point underdog, beat Manhattan 48-33, on Dec. 3, 1949. Santa Clara, a two-point underdog won by 73-64 on Dec. 26, 1949 and Bradley, a seven-point favorite, won by 89-67 on Jan. 12, 1950.

In the NYU and St. Francis games Breslin said, Poppe and Byrnes were instructed to play so the games would be won by more than the point spread. Manhattan beat NYU, 80-55, and St. Francis, 71-57.

Breslin said Poppe has made a "complete confession."

Albert Grasson, freshman fencing coach at Yale, was born in Antwerp, Belgium.

Kentucky U. To Unveil Its Touted Cager

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 18 (UP)—They're making room in the University of Kentucky's crowded basketball Hall of Fame for a panther-muscled, dark-eyed kid who has yet to play in a varsity game.

Kentucky fans and coaches alike are that sure that Cliff Hagan of Owensboro, Ky., can't miss.

Hagan's name already is known to almost every big-time basketball coach in the nation. A full quorum of them tried everything short of kidnapping to recruit him for his own teams.

Cliff will make his collegiate debut against Vanderbilt here Jan. 26, one day after he becomes a sophomore.

Coach Adolph Rupp was minded to withhold Hagan from varsity play this year, to give him three full years of eligibility. But with draft boards leering menacingly at healthy 20-year-olds, Baron Rupp decided his prize package had best be opened at once.

He'll be a marked man the moment he steps on the floor, but that won't be anything new to the 6-foot, 4-inch, 210-pound Hagan, who hasn't been off the spot since he was a junior in high school.

That year he led Owensboro to the Kentucky high school championship, scoring 548 points in 22 games. That's a 25-point per game clip.

Even as a high school boy, pressure meant nothing to the soft-spoken, olive-skinned Hagan in the state tournament, where the jitters so often attack schoolboy stars, Hagan scored 97 points in four games and topped the performance with a 41-point flourish in the title game.

That was, and still is, an all-time record even in a state where such stars as Wah-Wah Jones, Ralph Beard and Joe Fuiks were state tournament competitors.

Entering Kentucky last January, Hagan kept up the pace with the Wildcat freshmen, scoring 270 points in 12 games. The total included one 38-point effort against a junior college team.

Rupp and Assistant Coach Harry Lancaster fully expect Hagan to step into a varsity job on a team ranked number two in the nation. At this point, it appears he'll out Captain Walt Hirsch from his forward position.

That isn't just guess work because Hagan has been working out with the Kentucky varsity all season. Before the crucial Kansas game, Rupp had him posing as the great Jayhawk center, Clyde Lovellette—but he had to get him out of there because he was driving seven-foot

Dayton U. Passers Conquer Louisville U.

By The Associated Press

The University of Dayton Wednesday night did something only Villanova has been able to do this basketball season—defeat the mighty University of Louisville. The score was 68-61.

The host Flyers trailed, 39-30, at the half, but Leland Norris' 24 points helped a Dayton second-half rally.

Muskingum visited Youngstown to win its 10th victory in 13 games, 65-55. The game was tied at 26 all at the half. It was Youngstown's fourth loss in 13 games.

Defiance used every sub on the bench in defeating visiting Indiana Tech at Fort Wayne 84-55. Stuffy Sumpter, Findlay forward, was the game's high point man with 22 points.

Playing at home Ohio Wesleyan had an easy time with Kenyon, downing the visitors, 86-53. Capt. Bud Millhon accounted for 41 points.

Baldwin-Wallace chalked up its 10th win in 12 games by downing Akron 85-66 with the visitors leading in every quarter.

Playing at Columbus, Capital defeated Otterbein, 83-60, before a small crowd.

The Akron Goodyears defeated Toledo University, 67-61, in an exhibition game.

Duquesne's basketball team defeated 10 straight rivals before losing to Cincinnati.

Desire To Excell Keeps Massillon High On Top

"The desire to excell" has kept Massillon's football teams near the top in the state, declared Charles V. Mather, head coach at the Stark county school, speaking before a crowd of about 175 at the D A V Hall Wednesday night.

Coach Mather, Ohio high school's "coach of the year," was the main speaker at the second annual "Appreciation Night" honoring members of the East Liverpool varsity and freshman football teams and their coaches. The affair was sponsored by the Blue & White Nonpareil Club.

Coach Mather one of the strong candidates for the Ohio State coaching job told the group of his coaching career at Brilliant, Leetonia and Hamilton Public before moving to the Massillon job in 1948.

He stated his squad at Massillon is the same as any other high school team with maybe the exception they want to be the best in the state before the season starts. He said this desire and good training aids in this goal. He has won three state championships since he has been at Massillon.

Football has helped other groups at Massillon as they try to be as good as the football team, he said.

Coach Mather was introduced by Dr. Carl W. 'Red' McCutcheon, who served as toastmaster. Coaches Wade Watts, George Florin Lou Venditti, Doyle Nutter and Don Mohr were presented watches by the club. Grade School coaches Jim Proctor, Bill Shaler, Eddie Ossoski and Paul Head and equipment manager Harold Gindler were presented a gift.

Each of the football players were given a souvenir plate with a picture of the coaching staff inscribed.

The Esquire Barbershop Quartet provided the entertainment. Coach Mather also showed movies of the Massillon-Stuebenville football tilt.

A lunch was served by a committee headed by Bill Ridge.

All-Star Cage Team Routes Halls, 61-39

Wellsville's Eastern Ohio All-Star basketballers routed Hall China of East Liverpool, 61-39, Wednesday night in an exhibition game at Beacom Memorial gym. It was their third straight victory.

Bob Mellott bagged 17 points to pace the winners. Bob Baur looped 10 for the losers.

Bill Spivey crazy and breaking up the practice session with his scoring.

Lovellette, incidentally, scored only 12 points on Spivey in the game.

Secret of Hagan's success, Lancaster says, is "the most marvelous pair of hands I have ever seen on a basketball player." He scores most of his points on rebounds because he seems able to control any basketball he lays a finger on, and he out-jumps men who are inches taller.

In Kentucky they'll bet you odds on that only the selective service will prevent Cliff Hagan from ranking with the Beards and the Grozas. His name already is legend and he has yet to play in a varsity game.

Math Prof "Now, if I subtract 25 from 37 what is the difference?"

Club's Position Clarified

'No Ties With Masonry,' Rotary Chief Emphasizes

CHICAGO, Jan. 18 (AP) — Rotary has "absolutely no connection with Masonry or any other organization," says Arthur Lagueux, president of Rotary International. A statement aimed to clarify Rotary's position regarding all religions was made public yesterday by Mr. Lagueux at Rotary headquarters. He was in Chicago to attend next week's semi-annual meeting of Rotary's board of directors.

His statement followed publication last week of a Vatican decree barring Roman Catholic clergymen from membership in Rotary clubs.

A source connected with the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano had suggested the decree might have been intended to apply to Rotary organizations in Europe and South America, where it said they are sometimes associated with Masonry.

Vatican informants have not made clear which clubs, if any, have become associated with Masonry. The decree applied by implication to all similar clubs—Kiwanis, Lions and Optimists.

Leaders of civic clubs in the United States have said they are astonished and puzzled by the decree.

Mr. Lagueux, a Roman Catholic who lives in Quebec, Canada, said he has not seen the Vatican decree and could not "make specific comment."

However, in his statement to make clear Rotary's position regarding all religions, he said "Rotary is not a secret organization. Rotary has no vows or secrets of any kind. All of its meetings, activities and records are public."

Rotary does not seek to supplant or to interfere with any religious or charitable organization. Qualifications for Rotary membership do not require information as to race, religion or politics. Rotary assumes that the program of service of its 7,200 Rotary clubs in 83 countries is in accord with all religions.

Hockey Leaders Win

By The Associated Press
The leaders in the Eastern and Western divisions of the American Hockey League continued their winning ways last night. Buffalo top-place team in the Eastern section downed Providence 9-7, and Cleveland outscored Pittsburgh, 2-1. In the only other game, Hershey blanked Springfield, 2-0.

Robert MacMurdie, Grasson Yale's fencing coach, was a fencing master in the Belgian Army. He has coached the Eli swordsmen since 1921.

According To Iron Age
Big Increases Due Soon
In Steel For 'Defense'

NEW YORK, Jan 18 (AP)—Big increases in the steel tonnage allocated to defense orders and essential civilian programs will be felt soon, Iron Age, metalworking trade weekly, said today. The publication reported government and industry representatives are working out new regulations which will lift priority orders out of the strict military category.

"Broadened defense order ap- the National Production Author- publications," it said, "will include much items as construction of new plants, steel mill expansion, con- struction of facilities to safe- guard public health and safety and other projects approved by industry" and "steel for construction of 30 to 40 high-speed merchant vessels".

At the same time, it added, freight car builders are expected to be cut back from 308,000 to 288,000 tons a month and allocations for a Diesel locomotive program starting in April probably will be somewhat lower than the original estimate of 70,000 tons a month.

Defense order quotas (limits beyond which steel producers are not required to book such orders) will be raised effective March 1, the trade weekly predicted. It said probable new percentages are:

Stainless steels, semi-finished alloys, hot-rolled alloys, 35 per cent, cold-finished alloy bars, 25 per cent, carbon steel structural, 20 per cent, sheet piling, reinforcing bars and cold-finished carbon bars, 15 per cent; hot and cold-rolled sheets, 12 per cent, hot-rolled carbon bars, hot and cold-rolled strip, wire rods and rail steel bars, 10 per cent, and tin mill products, 5 per cent.

"A big chunk of alloy output is now going to the growing defense program," Iron Age said. "One stainless and alloy producer reports that 28 1/2 per cent of its orders are going for defense use."

The publication reported an increased number of government directives to steel producers requesting more tonnage for vital programs which cannot wait for steel through regular defense order channels. It said "Such directives are causing steel people to book tonnage beyond specified limits. In order to meet quotas assigned to them, some mills have been forced to revise production schedules to the point where operations and profits have been affected."

The Iron Age steel scrap composite price jumped for the first time in several weeks, reaching $46 75 a gross ton on the strength of a boost of $5 a ton at Philadelphia. The trade weekly reported steelmaking grades skyrocketed as much as $6 75 a gross ton at Buffalo. It said:

"Wild action started when a large eastern mill decided to step into the market to stop raiding and upgrading by scrap-hungry mills in the Pittsburgh district."

Universal Training, Draft Changes
Drastic Military Program
To Be Rushed In House

WASHINGTON, Jan 18 (AP) — House leaders went ahead today with plans to begin committee consideration next week of a drastic long-range military service program urged by Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall. The measure, combining a request for universal military service by the nation's youth with changes in the draft act which the Pentagon has been pressing, would touch the life of every unmarried young man who is not a veteran. It was sent to Capitol Hill late yesterday.

One provision, to lower the minimum age for induction into the armed services from the present 19 years to 18, already has stirred strong opposition in Senate hearings on military manpower needs.

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, was summoned to testify today at those hearings, being conducted by a Senate armed services subcommittee.

Chairman Vinson of the House armed services committee promised to introduce today the bill General Marshall requested. He has called hearings to start next Tuesday.

Besides establishing the universal military service program and lowering the minimum draft age, the proposal would extend the period of service for those inducted from 21 months to 27 and add one year to the enlistment period of all men whose original enlistments were slated to expire during the two fiscal years 1952 and 1953.

It also would make extensive changes in existing laws affecting reservists, National Guardsmen students and others.

Urging its prompt enactment as "the best way to meet our immediate need for expanded fighting forces and, at the same time, provide an enduring base for our military strength", General Marshall said in a letter to the congressional committees:

"We are confronted with a world situation of such gravity except in a dire emergency, the probability that any young man brought into service in the early years of this program would go into combat before he was 19," he said.

However, it is our strong fear that writing into the law a specific prohibition against sending men out of the United States before their 19th birthday would cripple the services in meeting a sudden, ruthless and violent action by our possible enemy."

Sticking to his request for lengthening of the service period from 21 months to 27 months, he called it the shortest term possible that would be "consistent with national security."

The entire program, the general wrote, is "necessary and just."

Rail Union Chiefs
Explain Pact Stand

WASHINGTON, Jan 18 (AP) — Leaders of the four railroad operating unions which turned down a three-year peace pact made at the White House a month ago were called on to give their reasons to presidential assistant John R. Steelman today.

The four union chiefs arranged a conference at the White House. They had initialed a pact Dec. 19 calling for a 25-cent hourly increase for 180,000 yard service workers and 10 cents an hour for 120,000 in road service, along with a moratorium on contract changes for three years.

But local chairmen of the four unions—the engineers, conductors, trainmen and firemen and engine-men—turned it down. It will be up to the leaders to work out a new settlement with the carriers with the help of Mr. Steelman or other mediators.

In the meantime, railroad company negotiators are meeting with representatives of 15 so-called non-operating unions representing one million workers. The unions are asking a 25-cent hourly increase. If no more progress is made this week, services of the National Mediation Board probably will be invoked next week, company representatives say.

8 Scouts Promoted
By Board Of Review

Seven Boy Scouts from Troop 26 and one from Troop 20 were advanced to second class by the Southern District Board of Review Monday night at the City Hall.

The boys from Troop 26 were Clyde Pritchett, Robert Theiss, Robert Wilson, Elmer Pritchett, Richard Parson, Robert House and Richard Theiss, while Barry Arbaugh won the award from Troop 20. Paul Nightingale from Troop 20 was awarded the reading merit badge.

Members of the board at the session were James D. Bennett, chairman, Emil Liebschner and J. Ralph George.

'Soup's On!' Sounds Fine On Cold Day

Harry Sits Down, But Can't Play His 'Missouri Waltz'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Washington's best known pianist, and Missourian can't play the Missouri Waltz.

This secret was exposed at a Blair House tea for veteran patients from Washington area hospitals yesterday.

President Truman sat down at the piano and asked the guests what they would like.

Some one shouted: "The Missouri Waltz."

The President said he never had learned to play it. He substituted Black Hawk Waltz.

Abortion Mill Raided; 'Pregnant List' Found

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 18 (AP)—An anonymous tip steered police to a six-year-old abortion mill last night that has a "list of every pregnant woman in south Jersey."

A middle-aged couple was seized in the raid, along with records containing the names and addresses of women operated on since 1945 at an average price of $400.

The arrests followed the disclosure last week of the death of 23-year-old Velma Callahan following an illegal abortion, but police did not connect the incidents.

Held in jail without bail for a hearing today are Tess Truitt and John Rudick, who police listed as man and wife. They were charged with abortion, attempted abortion and maintaining a disorderly house.

3 Trustees Elected By Presbyterian Church

W. E. Kaiser, Stanley T. Hilbert and Robert F. Beatty were elected to the Board of Trustees for terms of three years at the corporation meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday night. They succeed James T. Fortner, Bryce Palmer and Gordon Starkey, who were not eligible for re-election.

Albert Pittenger was re-elected clerk-treasurer. The congregation approved the appointment of a three-member committee to select a five-member planning commission to set up a long-range program. Reports of church officers and societies were received and the budget for 1951 was adopted. Mr. Starkey presided.

Birdman And Musician To Entertain Students

Paul Leonard, Lyceum Bureau birdman and musician, will furnish the program at an assembly of East Liverpool High School student body Monday at 11 a. m. in the Memorial Auditorium.

Mr. Leonard will play the "theremin," an instrument with no keyboard, strings, reeds, slides, valves or keys and without being touched. His program includes bird rhapsodies, calls and all types of sound effects.

The assembly usually is held on Wednesday but was canceled because of the mid-term examinations.

Passenger Car Output To Be Cut 20 To 25%

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The automobile industry notified the government yesterday that passenger car production will be cut this quarter by most companies 20 to 25 per cent below the output of a year ago.

The January-February-March estimate was given to William H. Harrison, administrator of the National Production Authority at a meeting of the major auto producers called by Mr. Harrison to check on their steel consumption.

Corporal Given Service Cross In Korea Heroism

TOKYO, Jan. 18 (AP)—An Arkansas corporal who crawled down a Korean road after his feet were blown off and saved a column of tanks has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. The award went to Corporal William C. Earnest of near Pine Bluff, Ark.

The extraordinary heroism was displayed near Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul, last Sept. 20 when United Nations forces were on the offensive.

HERE'S DISHWASHING MAGIC IN A BOTTLE!

Joy Procter & Gamble's Sensational New Liquid Sudsmaker

MAKES GREASY DISHES SHINE IN HALF THE TIME!

It's the fastest, easiest, nicest dishwashing possible

It's true! No soap flakes, powders or granules in the world wash dishes as fast—or get you away from the sink as quickly as Joy.

For Joy is already dissolved. Makes more suds faster. Leaves no sticky soap particles to cloud or streak dishes or glasses. Dishes go from grease to shine in half the time—without wiping. Pots and pans rinse clean—without hard, messy scouring.

Yet—this smooth, mild liquid is wonderfully kind to hands. Gives real beauty care to finest washable fabrics—silks, nylons, woollens.

And a handy bottle of Joy goes almost twice as far as a big box of soap in hardest water. Get Joy.

Put Joy in your dishpan—today!

JOY IS LIQUID! MAKES MORE SUDS FASTER!

MAGIC LIQUID! CUTS GREASE BETTER!

SPEEDY LIQUID! GETS DISHES DONE QUICKER!

KIND TO HANDS
This smooth, mild liquid is wonderfully kind to hands. It's truly a magic liquid.

WONDERFUL FOR NYLONS
Because Joy is so mild, it gives real beauty care to finest washable fabrics—silks, nylons or woollens. Keep a handy bottle in your bathroom.

HANDY BOTTLE OF JOY IS ALMOST TWICE AS ECONOMICAL AS A BIG BOX OF SOAP IN HARDEST WATER.

Jet Pilot Flies 130 Missions But Fails To Spot Red Plane

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer
KOREA, Jan. 18—A young Pennsylvania flier during the first six months of the Korean campaign flew more jet plane combat missions than any other man in history—and he did it without ever seeing an enemy plane in the sky.

This odd distinction fell to Lieutenant Robert J. Swartz, 24, of Butler.

It didn't please him at all—the fact that he chalked up more than 130 combat trips and never once got a chance to test his guns against an air-borne foe. But he took the situation calmly. He felt his break would still come before the war ends—and perhaps it has by now.

'You just gotta be there when they're there,' he said philosophically.

Lieutenant Swartz, a pleasant, clean-cut flier who resembles screen actor George Montgomery, served as a private in the Air Force during the second world war. He came back into the service in 1948 because he had his heart set on flying.

He flew a jet plane for the first time last May and was one of the pilots rushed here to provide air cover for civilians evacuating besieged Seoul.

He quickly became a work-horse of a squadron of the 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing, an outfit known as The Headhunters. He flew two and three missions a day in his F-80. Other jet jockeys chased and tangled with North Korean planes over the rugged hills. But fly as often and as far and as hard as he could—Lieutenant Swartz never could locate an enemy aloft.

But he did an impressive job against ground targets. One day he knocked off six locomotives. Another time he was credited with destroying three Russian Yak fighters he caught on the field and with killing 200 troops.

His target preferences are enemy vehicles and tanks because their results are more clearly evident.

'They blow up easily,' he said.

His mates tease Lieutenant Swartz by calling him a nickname they invented—Famous. He takes the kidding lightly-heartedly, but would like to be less famous for his bad luck at finding enemy planes in the air.

'I'm itching to get a MIG—I really want to catch one of those babies,' he said. 'But I still have 18 months of over-eas duty left to do it in. My luck ought to change in that time.'

Legion Will Collect Toys At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE, Jan. 18 (Special)—American Legion Post 31 will wind up its annual Tide of Toys campaign tonight with a personal pick-up service from residents who offer contributions by phone.

Members will pack the toys for shipment to Europe where CARE will distribute them to underprivileged children.

Nearly 1,000 playthings already have been collected. Any type of toys except those of a war nature, such as guns or tanks are acceptable.

Ebright's Election Plan Receives Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP) — A suggestion by former Ohio state treasurer Don Ebright that state and national elections be held in different years got a cold reception in Washington.

Republicans, Democrats and the only independent in Congress, Representative Frazier Reams of Toledo, joined in opposing the bulk of Mr. Ebright's proposal.

Mr. Ebright, who was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor against Democratic Governor Frank J. Lausche, wrote recently to the chairmen of the election committee of the Ohio Senate and House.

He suggested that state, county and local elections be held in odd-numbered years. Now state elections at the same time was that officials as well as congressmen, in the years ahead "it would seem senators and the president are chosen in the same election in even-numbered years.

Ohio congressmen did endorse one portion of Mr. Ebright's proposal—that calling for four-year terms for state administrative officials. Now, most of these serve two years.

Representative Robert T. Secrest, Senacaville Democrat, said he could not detect conflict between local and national issues.

He said that repeatedly the voters have "gone one way on national candidates and the other on state and local races".

Mr. Secrest cited the recent election, which he said found Ohio voters re-electing Mr. Lausche governor "on strictly state issues" and re-electing Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio Republican, over State Auditor Joseph

T. Ferguson, the Democratic candidate, on "national issues".

Mr. Secrest said he would "go along" with Mr. Ebright's proposal for four-year terms for state officers because "it would help them do a better job".

Mr. Reams commented that "the system works all right now, if the people will only get out and do their duty as voters".

The independent said that lumping state, county and municipal elections together would load the ballot with too many names.

Mr. Reams said that if Mr. Ebright's proposal were adopted, there would be years when the only races to be decided would be those for Congress. This would come when there would be no presidential election and when neither U.S. senator from the state would be up for reelection.

"I'm opposed to that," Mr. Reams said.

Representative M. McCullough, Plaqu Republic, also envisioned a situation in which only the offices of representative and representative-at-large would be filled in one out of every three national elections, if all state, county and city officers were elected in odd-numbered years.

Mr. McCullough said he favors four-year terms for state administrative officials who now serve only two years.

Representative Wayne L. Hays, Flushing Democrat, said: "The people of Ohio by choosing officials from both parties in recent elections showed that they pretty well knew who they wanted."

Are You Doing Your Road Work? Report Will Tell

COLUMBUS, Jan. 18 (AP)—Roads good out your way?

Weather, gas prices and flats notwithstanding, chances are you, an Ohio motorist, drove more than 9,200 miles on state roads last year. A bumpy part of this total probably was rolled up on brick highways (Ohio has more of these than all other states combined).

Soon to be released is an Ohio Program Commission analysis of state highways and the people who travel them. The report will confirm what many motorists suspect—there's more traffic on Cleveland streets than in any other Ohio city and U. S. Route 33 northwest of Columbus is the most heavily traveled state highway in Ohio.

The shortest road in Ohio connects state Route 65 at Fort Meigs Park and U.S. Route 20 at the Maumee-Perrysburg bridge. Tiny Route 270 is 23 hundredths of a mile long and 610 vehicles travel it daily.

All in all, Ohio has 102,300 miles of roads and streets. It takes 2,343 different governmental agencies to manage them.

The Highway Department resurfaced 1,249 miles of highway last year. It fixed 202 small bridges and 400 big ones, contracting for 85 million dollars of road construction work.

So the roads, if not good where you are, should get better soon.

City Bowler Wins $75 In Palestine Tourney

An East Liverpool man took $75 second prize in the handicap division at the third annual Scratch and Handicap Bowling Tournament at the Liberty Bowling Center, East Palestine, it was revealed in the prize list released today.

He was listed as Harold Watson, finishing second with a pin total of 1,058.

About 460 bowlers shared $800 in prize money in the event which ended Jan. 7.

First place in the handicap division, with $125 prize, went to L. Mentzer of North Lima for his score of 1,125, and S. Ross of East Palestine won $150 for first place in the scratch division with 1,025 pins.

BELMONT, Mass. (UP)—Charles W. Thury nearly starved when he was three days old, caught pneumonia two years later, suffered an attack of St. Vitus Dance and always has had poor digestion. He has just celebrated his 100th birthday. "Work don't kill a man. You'll find few men who work as hard as I do," he said. "The strong die before the weak," Mr. Thury said, adding that one of his sisters, the strongest member of his family, died at 85.

He remembers that he was "mischievous" until he joined the Methodist Church at 16. Since then he has uttered but one oath and neither smoked nor taken an alcoholic drink.

Artificial 'Moons'

Proposed For Video

LONDON (UP)—Artificial moons may be used some day for television, with fuel stations thrown in.

The British Interplanetary Society says it has models of rocket ships which will be used as way stations for trips to the moon itself.

"Groups of four will be made to meet some miles up," a spokesman said. "They will form the bases or 'artificial moons', for refueling for further rockets."

"These artificial moons also will take over the control of all shipping and aircraft radio in the future and they will send out television programs to all parts of the earth at the same time."

The biggest catch to the society's plan is that a full-scale version of such a rocket ship would cost several million pounds.

'Princess Goes To Dogs,' British League Cries

LONDON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Britain's top fox hunters lined up last night to defend Princess Margaret's attendance at a fox hunt. "Those who make the most uproar against hunting with hounds are those who know the least about it," James Fitzwilliams, secretary of the Masters of the Foxhounds Association, said. The princess had been rebuked by the executive committee of the League Against Cruel Sports because she "followed a hunt of the Pytchley foxhounds Jan. 6 in a motor vehicle." The committee said the sport "is regarded by quite half the people of Britain with absolute loathing and abhorrence by reason of its inherent cruelty to the unfortunate animal involved."

Talk Of Sabotage Fades In Water-Front Fire

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18 (AP)—Several federal investigators said privately today there are more indications the 15-million-dollar water-front fire Tuesday night was caused by carelessness rather than deliberate sabotage. Apparently the most prominent clue to the blaze that destroyed a five-million-dollar ammunition pier and the decommissioned transport George Washington was an innocent-looking oil drum used by pier workers as a fire bin to keep themselves warm during cold weather. The drum was taken from a collapsed section of the pier about 250 feet from shore. That was in the general vicinity of the place where the first flames were reported.

Magazine Sale To Be Opened Wednesday

High School Students To Vie For Prizes In Drive Ending Feb. 5

The annual magazine subscription campaign of the East Liverpool High School student body will be launched Wednesday, with Bert A. Dawson, dean of boys, as chairman. The drive will continue through Feb. 5.

Neil Huntsinger, production manager for the Crowell Publishing Co. of Springfield, will confer with the faculty Tuesday and discuss plans at the weekly assembly of students Wednesday.

Subscriptions will be taken for all popular magazines but the most credit will be allowed for those published by Crowell. There will be prizes for the 10 students who collect the largest amounts and daily individual and room prizes will be awarded. Miss Sarah Hedderston has been named to purchase the 10 grand prizes.

Subscriptions totaling about $5,000 were secured last year. After paying for prizes and other campaign expenses, the school received $1,201.75. In 1949, about $6,200 was received, the school getting about $1,600.

Proceeds are used for three purposes—Expenses of the annual Junior-Senior prom, for visual education equipment and for paid assemblies in which professional entertainers appear.

A secretary and an alternate to receive the daily reports have been named for the 27 home-rooms.

They are:

Room 301, Carol Caputo and Jean McLean; 302, Nancy Wilson and Nancy Johnson; 303, Barbara Feltz and Norma Hornick; 304, Eleanor and Jean Hoyer; 305, Eleanor and Mildred Stebbins; 306, Betty Lawrence and Thelma Marshall; 307, Marilyn Smith and Jo Ann Black; 308, Room 294, Janice Martin and Dorothy Caputo; 295, Jeanne Sullivan and Ronald Ruder; 296, Joanne Sullivan and Jacqueline Bennett; 297, Marjorie Dye and Hazel Rowlands; 298, Lole Ann Justice and Janice Smith.

Bride, 12, Husband, 26, Held In South Bend

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 18 (AP)—A 12-year-old bride is in custody of juvenile authorities here and her 26-year-old husband of less than a month is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Probate Judge John S. Gonas ordered the couple held.

Blue-eyed, 5-foot, 2-inch Helen Ford and George Ford were married Dec. 23 after eloping to Alcorn, Miss. Helen was a pupil in the sixth grade in a rural school in Clay township. Her husband is the brother of her stepfather.

The girl told authorities she gave her age as 18 in getting a marriage license. The couple returned to Indiana and set up housekeeping in near-by Mishawaka, where the husband works in a rubber plant.

Truck Crash Benefits Denied By Ohio Court

COLUMBUS, Jan. 18 (INS)—The Ohio Supreme Court yesterday reversed the Mahoning county courts and upheld the state Industrial Commission in denying death benefits in the truck crash death of Theodore R. Carter of Youngstown.

Mr. Carter, owner-operator of a tractor-trailer, was killed April 17, 1945, near Evans Center, N.Y. The commission held that Mr. Carter was not an employee but an independent contractor, since he owned his own truck, paid all his own expenses, chose his own routes and times, worked irregularly and controlled all other details.

Appealing from the decision, his widow claimed he was an employee of a covered firm because the Interstate Commerce Commission plates attached to his truck were issued to a covered company and not to himself.

Moves Up On Times

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The appointment of Turner Catledge as executive managing editor of The New York Times was announced yesterday by Publisher Arthur Hays Sulzberger. Mr. Catledge, an assistant managing editor since 1945, will be second in command of the Times news staff under Managing Editor Edwin L. James.

When Mauna Loa, Hawaii, erupted in 1855, the lava flowed at a rate of 40 miles an hour.

'Special' Redesigned

New Buicks For '51 Here Saturday

The 1951 Buick Special, rebuilt from stem to stern.

BUICK brings out its 1951 creations Saturday, featuring a completely-rebuilt Special in the low-price field.

The Super in the moderate-priced field, and the Roadmaster in the luxury range, round out Buick's offerings.

They will be shown locally at Turk Motors at Sixth and Walnut.

The 1951 Special is completely new throughout. It has a new body, a new chassis, and is powered with the F-263 Fireball engine introduced in the Super last year.

The Special, which comes in both standard and de luxe trim, is mounted on a 121 1/2-inch wheelbase and has an over-all length of 204.8 inches.

The Riviera "hard-top" convertible, which Buick pioneered in 1949 to start a new trend in automobile styling, has been extended to the Special, giving Buick three of these models for the 1951 market.

The Riviera styling, available in the four-door sedans in the Roadmaster and Super series last year, also has been extended to both two and four-door models in the Special. Also available in the Special is the first time since the war are a low-priced convertible and a three-passenger coupe in the Special series.

The most significant change in appearance in the entire line is in the new bumper-grille combination which proved so popular in the 1950 Buick. The grille, containing 25 bars of tough, stamped steel, is located behind the bumper. The bumper itself is the wrap-around type, composed of a stamped steel bar reinforced by two larger bumper "bombs" and two extra grille guards. The grille is bolted to the bumper and flexes with it, reducing the possibility of damage.

Other new features include a new hood ornament and emblem, and new fender ornaments. All cars in the Special and the Super series are powered with the F-263 engine which develops 128 horsepower with Dynaflow. With synchro-mesh transmission the horsepower rating of the Special is 120. In the Super the horsepower output with synchro-mesh is 124. The horsepower rating of the Roadmaster remains the same, 152 at 3600 rpm.

Dynaflow, which has been improved for 1951, continues as standard equipment on the Roadmaster and optional on all other series.

The directional signal lever on the steering post for simplicity of control. The Dynaflo shift lever remains on the right. Directional lights in the front are housed in the bumper "bombs" the same as last year. Back-up lights are housed in the rear bumper "bombs" in the Super and Roadmaster. In the Special they are incorporated in the bumper and the body.

Heavy Buying Points To Hoarding

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Government food officials said today upwards of 1,000,000 pounds of meat may be stashed away in family freezers and lockers in anticipation of rationing.

That quantity is equal to about a two-week supply for the nation. The heavy market demand for meat indicates there has been considerable buying in recent weeks above day-to-day table needs, Agriculture Department officials said.

The department recently reported a sharp increase in the number of home freeze units in American homes in the last few years. Estimates on the number of units in use vary from 2,250,000 to more than 3,000,000.

THE DEPARTMENT said if consumers use somewhat more than half their deep freezer and locker space for meat, they would have room for at least 1,000,000 pounds of meat rationing has been heard in connection with government plans to control prices. Officials have said rationing would be necessary to make price controls work. Without rationing, they said, meat would tend to go in large quantities to those nearest production centers, with those some distance away getting only small supplies.

Officials told a reporter it is safe to assume talk of possible rationing has encouraged many to store extra supplies in freeze units.

What to do about freezer supplies under rationing is a problem causing officials a lot of worry. The longer the delay in imposing controls, the more meat is likely to be stored away.

If rationing is ordered, consumers undoubtedly will be required to state in their applications for ration cards how much meat they have on hand. This quantity would be deducted from their ration allowances.

BUT OFFICIALS acknowledge that not all the stored meat will be declared.

In addition to the home freeze units, there are more than 30,000,000 refrigerators in American homes. More than half are estimated to have compartments capable of storing meats for long periods.

The department says there also are more than 5,000,000 lockers available in freezer locker plants throughout the country. These lockers are used principally by farmers and other rural residents.

The combined space of storage units available to consumers—freezers, home freeze units, refrigerators, home freeze units and lockers—with temperatures low enough for safe storage of meat was estimated to be considerably larger than the volume of space used for meat in commercial cold-storage houses.

'Burma Surgeon' Given Six Years In Treason Charge

RANGOON, Burma, Jan. 18 (AP)—A Burma court yesterday judged Dr. Gordon Seagrave, World War II's "Burma Surgeon," guilty of high treason.

The 53-year-old American was sentenced to serve six of his remaining years in prison for aiding hill tribesmen rebelling against the Burmese government.

Dr. Seagrave's attorney said he will appeal the verdict and that he expects the appeal to be heard in about three weeks. Meanwhile, the doctor was returned to jail.

The court found him guilty of two of three charges against him. It sentenced him to six years at hard labor on one count and one year on the other, with the sentences to run concurrently.

The verdict came as a complete surprise. Most persons here expected his acquittal. Nurses from his hospital wept as the court for an hour and a half read its judgment before a packed courtroom.

Dr. Seagrave received the verdict stoically. Only his moving jaw muscles betrayed any feeling.

But after the judges left the courtroom, he told reporters: "I sincerely hope the American people will not judge the people of Burma by the actions of a few. I bear the Burmese people no malice for this," he added.

Will Quit A.E.C.

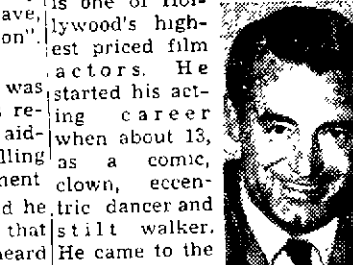

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Carleton Shugg will quit a high post with the Atomic Energy Commission to become associated with a New England shipbuilding company that is building a hull for an atomic powered submarine.

Dies At Wheeling Home

WHEELING, Jan. 18 (AP)—Jesse A. Bloch, 71, chairman of the board of the Bloch Brothers Tobacco Co. and prominent industrialist and civic leader of Wheeling, died yesterday at his home. He had been ill for some time.

He was president of the Tobacco Manufacturers Association of the United States and had been a director of the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. He was a former state senator and former member of the House of Delegates.

His company is said to be the largest manufacturer of chewing tobacco in the world.

Thrift Week Starts

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—National Thrift Week started yesterday, the birthday anniversary of Benjamin Franklin—with a reminder from President Truman that thrift "builds success for the individual" and economic strength for the nation.

Weirton Plant To Add 125 More Employees

WEIRTON, Jan. 18 (Special)—The Signode Steel Strapping Co. is launching an expansion of its Weirton operations to include a huge new plant building and the employment of 125 more people.

The announcement was made last night at the annual dinner meeting of the Weirton Chamber of Commerce by Mayor Thomas E. Millson.

John H. Leslie of Chicago, president of Signode, said the company, which has operated in Weirton since early 1949, has acquired an additional five acres adjoining its plant in the Half Moon industrial development on the Ohio River in lower Weirton. This brings the company holdings here to 13 acres. Present employment of the company is 25 men and women.

Signode at its various plants manufactures a wide range of tools and hand and power machines for application of steel strapping to packages for use in bracing loads in freight cars.

'Jammed' Air Force Halts Most Enlistments

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Because its indoctrination centers are jammed following heavy volunteering, the Air Force virtually has halted enlistments except by men with previous Air Force service.

A spokesman said it is hoped the suspension can be lifted about Feb. 1.

Besides accepting personnel with previous experience, the Air Force is also continuing to accept applicants for the Women's Air Force and young men who have been appointed to aviation cadet courses for pilots and navigators.

Both the Navy and Air Force have reported heavy enlistments recently. Early in January both limited volunteers to about 1,000 a day.

THE ARRIVAL OF SUVA OF TORCH DANCER TASSY FAWN AND MILLIONAIRE HUBBY WISH JONES.

HERE THEY COME!

ISN'T IT WONDERFUL, WISHY-PIE? THEY EVEN HAVE PHOTOGRAPHERS IN THE FIJI ISLANDS.

PLEASE, BABY! PLEASE!

WELCOME, MR. JONES! AND HERE ARE SOME RADIOGRAMS, MR. JONES.

TEAR EM UP! WE WANT PRIVACY! WE'RE FLEEING CIVILIZATION, O'YA HEAR?

THE SEARCH FOR WILFRED CUTTLE, THE MILD-MANNERED BANK EMPLOYEE WHO NEGOTIATED ONE OF THE BIGGEST DEALS OF ALL TIME.

I'VE CASHED EVERY JOINT IN TOWN, MR. SEVEN. NOT A TRACE OF WILFRED CUTTLE!

THE CODES AREN'T ANY BETTER LUCK... WE'LL TRY THE BIG GAME AGAIN TONIGHT, CURTAINS.

WELL, SMART BOY, WE'VE COVERED THE RACE TRACKS... WHAT'S YOUR HUNCH NOW FOR FINDING WILFRED?

I'VE GOT A HUNCH, WIDOW... FIND JOE SEVEN!

A G E N T

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THE SWITCH? MINE MULDOON PULLED WITH HER DAUGHTER SO SHE COULD ESCAPE IN OUR HELICOPTER?

OUI, M'YIEU! L'COMMANDANT... WE HAVE ALREADY SPREAD THE ALARM BY WIRELESS!

I GUESS THAT COVERS IT! WE'LL GRAB RIDES BACK TO TOWN WITH THE MILITARY POLICE... I THINK I KNOW WHO THE COLONEL WILL NOMINATE AS BOOS OF THE YEAR!

WHY SO GLOOMY, MAJOR CANYON? YOU BUST UP THE GUN-RUNNEERS OF M'YIEU GROS!

MOMENTARILY! A WOMAN LIKE HERSELF MULDOON WILL BE BACK IN BUSINESS AS SOON AS SHE SQUIGS OUT OF THE POODOOSE SHE'S IN WITH THE RED-STAR MOB!

NOW I KNOW! ALL A WOMAN MUST DO TO CAUSE MAJOR CANYON TO SAY BRAVO - EES TO RUN A BLACK MARKET - STEAL HER DAUGHTER'S CLOTHES - AN HILUCK A HELICOPTER! - MEBBEE CHEETAH WE'LL ONE DAY ACQUIRE SUCH HIGH PRESTIGE!

I WATE TO ADMIT IT, BUT - MYSELF IS QUITE A GAI!

A RESCUE PARTY REACHES THE WRECKAGE OF FLIGHT THIRTY-TWO...

HUME TO THE MAK, AT BASE OF HILL... APPARENTLY NO SURVIVORS! IT'LL BE A SCOOP - WE HAVE THE ONLY CAMERA UP HERE! GOT YOUR TYPING FINGERS THAWED OUT?

AND AS PHIL AND WILDA WING THEIR WAY TO THE SCENE...

YEAH, BUT IT'S COLD IN THIS JEEP! C'MON, FEED ME THE DETAILS!

APPROACHING AN ISOLATED CABIN, TWO MILES FROM THE CRASH...

SHE'S STILL ALIVE! PLEASE, HEAVEN, BE ON AN SIDE, JUST THIS ONCE!

G A S O L I N E

JUDY, IT'S BEST YOU DON'T TELL YOUR BROTHER ABOUT MY BORROWIN' $3 FROM YOU.

DON'T WORRY, GINK. BUT I DON'T BELIEVE THAT STORY ABOUT YOUR LANDLADY TOSSEING YOU OUT.

YOU DON'T THINK I'D LIE, DO YOU? SHE'S A HARD-HEARTED 'O' WITCH AN' SHE'D DO ANYTHING!

I WAS JUST EASY, THAT'S ALL.

CALL HER UP. YOU'LL FIND OUT I DO OWE HER THIS WEEK'S RENT - AN' TWO MORE, BESIDES!

I WOULDN'T DOUBT IT! BUT YOU'D BETTER HAVE THAT MONEY FOR ME ON SATURDAY!

KNOBBY! COME OVER QUICKLY. TELL JERRY TOO. I GOT A MULESKIN FROM MURFREY... HE'S GOING TO CALL FROM THE AMERICAN ZONE.

HUH... WHAT... NO... KNOBS. YER TRIPPO... I'LL BE THERE IN A LASH'S MOUSE-REET.

AN HOUR LATER...

THERE IT IS! I'LL GET IT!

I'LL... I... OH DEAR!

OH, GOODY!! POPEYE'S POPPA IS TELLING YOU WHERE TO FIND HIS MOMMA??

PLEASE BE QUIET OLIVE!!

I CAN'T LISTEN TO TWO PEOPLE AT ONCE!!

YOU SAY $4,000?? AND WE MUST NOT TELL?? VERY WELL.

SHE IS 4,000 MILES AWAY-- IT WILL TAKE A LOT OF CASH!!

ARE YOU SURE IT MADAME WAS POPEYE'S POPPA IN THE CRYSTAL BALL?? I DON'T SEE ANYTHING!!

MADAME FUTURA HAS POWERS THAT YOU DON'T HAVE YOURSELF!!

By Webster

WE HAD A MOST INTERESTING LECTURE AT THE CLUB. THE LADY SPOKE ON THE IMPORTANCE OF PERSONAL APPEARANCE. SHE SAID THE TENDENCY OF MANY MARRIED PEOPLE WAS TO RELAX AND GROW CARELESS ABOUT THEIR DRESS. ACCORDING TO HER WE SHOULD BE AS METICULOUS ABOUT OUR APPEARANCE AS WE WERE DURING COURTSHIP.

WHAT'S THIS - A BUILD-UP FOR A NEW DRESS?

BLONDIE

MAMA RAVED ABOUT THE WAY TIGER KISSED HIS WIFE IN THE MOON'S LAST NIGHT-- WAIT!! SHE SEES THIS!

I'LL WATCH, POP MAYBE I CAN LEARN SOMETHING.

I'LL SHOW HER I'M NO DODO.

DARLING YOUR DREAM BOY IS HOME... KISS ME.

OH, BOY... STEAK AND ONIONS!

OK, GENTLEMEN, GET DRESSED. DESPITE YOUR EXPOSURE TO CIVILIAN LIVING, I GUESS YOU'RE STILL FIT TO JOCKEY THE TAXPAYER'S AIRPLANES.

THANKS, DOC.

SIR, IF YOU'RE FINISHED HERE CAN YOU TAKE A LOOK AT SERGEANT CRAGG? HE JUST REPORTED ON SICK CALL.

WHAT? THE OLD REGULAR! THAT OLD HE-BULL HASN'T BEEN SICK A DAY IN HIS LIFE!

FOR PETE'S SAKE! THIS MAN HAS BEEN OVER HERE TOO LONG.

NO, SIR. IT'S JUST THAT COLONEL BRASSARD SAID "GOOD MORNING" TO HIM IN A FATHERLY TONE OF VOICE.
